Perquimans S&W Supervisors Sponsor No-Till Planting

The Perquimans Board of the Albemarle District Supervisors has purchased a set of no-till planters. The planters will be made available to local farmers who wish to try this relatively new concept of planting. Pictured is Floyd Mathews, Chairman of the local board, planting soybeans directly in the smallgrain residue only a few rounds behind the combine on June 9th, in the Forestburg community. He plans to spray with a chemical herbicide soon after planting to control weeds and grass.

With the harvesting of smallgrain upon us the adaptation of this planting method can save considerable time and labor in getting soybeans in. There is no delay in planting dates due to extensive land preparations. Yields are comparable to convention methods, with reports of up to 40 busheis per acre. Other advantages from a conservation standpoint is that all crop residues are utilized which increases soil tilth. Water holding and intake capacities, reduces wind and water erosion, maintains organic matter and provides protection to the land throughout the year; ends also be better harvesting operations in wet periods due to the undisturbed condition to the soil.

The local supervisors are hoping that a number of farmers will use the no-till method on several acres just as a trial. If proven successful, maybe in a few years the mass burning of smallgrain fields can be eliminated. For more information about the use of the no-till planters stop by the Perquimans Soil Conservation Service office or call 426-5545, Mrs. Elton Hurdle, District Clerk, can assist you.

Lunches will be served to participating children. Activities for children will start on Tuesday, June 29, 1971, and will continue through Tuesday, July 27, 1971. Hours of operation for children will be from 8:30 a.m. to 1:00p.m., Monday through Friday, Monday, July 5, 1971, will be observed as a holiday in conjunction with the July 4th week-end.

Children eligible for enrollment have been selected from incoming first through third grade reading levels. The summer project has been approved for approximately 300 students.

Bus transportation will be provided for those children who would normally be transported during the regular school session. It will be the responsibility of parents living in the near proximity of the schools to provide transportation for their children. Parents are requested to pick up their children promptly at one o'clock daily.

In so far as possible teachers (12) and educational aides (12) to whom summer students will be assigned next year will be employed in order that teachers might become familiar with the students and the students might become familiar with the teachers prior to next years assignments.

The regular school type accident insurance will be offered to parents for their children who are participating in the ESEA-Title I program. In as much as parents or guardians are responsible for all medical and/or hospital care pertaining to their children while participating in ESEA-Title I Activities it is strongly recommended that all students be enrolled in our insurance plan.

Cost of insurance has been set by the participating insurance company at $1.00 per child for the period covering the program and should be paid to the principals or his designated representative on the first day of the program. No child will be covered by the insurance until the fee of $1.00 per child is paid. Parents of participating children are encouraged to volunteer their services in assisting teachers with classroom activities.

In the event parents desire further information on the summer program they should contact Tommy Maston, Perquimans Central Grammar School at 426-5332 or William Tice, Hertford Grammar School, 426-7166.

Dinner Honoring Retiree

It appears that the old school bell at Chinquapin school rang again Sunday, May 30, 1971 at the Holiday Inn in Elizabeth City, N.C. with a dinner honoring Miss Nellie Holley. About fifty students who received their early education from Chinquapin School returned from numerous living areas throughout the nation to identify with the occasion and program.

The purpose was primarily two fold. First, there was the immense desire of former Chinquapin students and their families to honor a person who had so much to do with their early educational developments. Secondly, the occasion highlighted the approaching retirement of Miss Nellie Holley from the Perquimans County School System after nearly forty years of superior and dedicated service.

The program began with a grace by Mrs. Hattie Williamston of Brooklyn, New York. Then after dinner culminating activities included a marvelous vocal rendition of the Lords Prayer by Mrs. Sybil Parker Page of New York City. A lovely bouquet of long stem roses bias presented by Little Miss Granette Trent and Master Robbie Sharpe. Cards and telegrams were delivered by Mrs. Dorothy Arrington of Brooklyn New York. The main address was delivered by Mrs. Alice Butler of Washington, D.C. A gold bracelet was presented from the group by Mrs. Hattie Sharpe of Brooklyn. Mr. Thomas Sharpe of Brooklyn and Mrs. V.S. Trent served as coordinator of the serene and honorable program.
