Albemarle FFA Woodland Clinic At Camp Cale

The tenth annual Albemarle FFA Woodland Clinic was held Thursday, October 7th at Camp Cale in Perquimans County with six high schools in the area participating.

The event is sponsored annually by the Albemarle Soil and Water Conservation District with the cooperation of the Vocational Agricultural Teachers, the N.C. Forest Service, Union Camp Corporation and Jones Lumber Company. The North Carolina Forest Service sets up the contest and supervises the event, whereas the cash prizes are donated by Union Camp Corporation and Jones Lumber Company.

There are four items covered in the contest: saw timber estimation; pulpwood estimation; timber marking; and tree identification. The purpose is to stimulate interest in forestry as an integral part of a course in vocational agriculture and as a profession. To develop reasonable abilities necessary in managing forests, and to develop reasonable skills needed in the application of the principle of managing, measuring, and marketing forest products.

The Chowan High School FFA team, coached by E.S. White, won first place honors and a $200.00 check. J.L. Tunnell, Voc Ag teacher at Perquimans High School, is pictured with his FFA team who placed second and received a check of $15.00. Others in picture are (l or r): Elsie Stutzman (Union Camp Corp. representative); Gregg

Harris Wins Golf Championship

Clark Harris put his golfing skills together recently in becoming the 1971 Club Champion at the Chowan Golf and Country Club. For accomplishing this feat, Clark received the pictured trophy at the awards banquet held September 27th. Clark defeated Cecil Fry of Edenton 3 and 2 in the 36-hole final match to capture the annual championship.

Seminar On Preaching Set For Nov. 1

A Seminar on Preaching has been set for six Mondays beginning November 1st at City Road United Methodist Church in Elizabeth City.

The Seminar is jointly sponsored by the Committee on Continuing Education of the North Carolina Conference, United Methodist Church, and the College of the Albemarle. All ministers in northeastern North Carolina who are interested in the Seminar have been invited to participate.

Dr. John W. Carlton, Professor of Preaching at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary at Wake Forest will lead the Seminar. Carlton is also adjunct professor at the Duke Divinity School in Durham.

The three hour sessions each Monday will include lectures, conversations and workshop preaching sessions where each participant will have the opportunity to preach before a small group of ministers. Pastors who will be leading the small group workshops are Francis Bradshaw and Kern Ormond, Elizabeth City; Worth Cotton, Ahoskie; Henry Lewis, Manteo; R.M. Drew, Windsor and Chester Andrews, Hertford.

Interested persons may contact Dr. S. Bruce Petteway, President of the College of the Albemarle or the Rev. G. Robert McKenzie, Elizabeth City District Superintendent of the United Methodist Church.

Perq. Library Memorial Fund Receives Donations

At its regular quarterly meeting October 6, the Perquimans County Library Board received a gift from the family of Carson G. Holleman as the beginning of a Perquimans Library Memorial Fund to be invested and used to meet the needs of the library as they arise. In addition to this initial sum another cash donation has been received from Mr. and Mrs. J.F. Lane in memory of Mrs. Mary Wood Hunter.

The library board feels that this fund now started will possibly be increased by contributions from others interested in the library's growth and service to the community, and will provide tangible help when additions and major improvements are needed.

New memorial books that have been given to the library in recent weeks are: The Expanding World of Man; and Our Twentieth Century World, by the Editors of Newsweek; Maine Beautiful, by Nutting; Vol. 16 of The International Encyclopedia of Art; and Van Nostrand's Scientific Encyclopedia are all 5 in memory of Lindsay C. Winslow. The Twilight of Princes and The Age of Optimism both by the Editors of Newsweek are in memory of William Lenard Vann; and Mary Martin's Book of Needlepoint is in memory of Mrs. Mary Wood Hunter.

Other new books in the library are: Wheels, by Hailey; Backcountry Camping by Riviere; Tregaron's Daughter, by Brent; The Condor Passes, The Book-of-the-Month selection; Classics of Transportation, by Tryckare; Tributes and Forms for Public Occasions; Gauguin in South America; The Devil's Lieutenant, by Fagyas; Summer of the Red Wolfe, by Morris West; and The Infiltrator, by York.

This year's largest check, as usual, went to Charlotte, the state's largest city, which is getting $1,155,408. Other large checks went to Greensboro, $769,379; Winston-Salem, $679,687; Raleigh, $603,082; Durham, $461,414; Asheville, $369,802; High Point, $339,179; and Fayetteville, $285,426.

Mrs. Harrell Receives Leadership Award

Mrs. T.T. Harrell, Hertford, Rt. 1, is one of 12 Tar Heel women to receive a leadership award for her work in cooperation with the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service.

The awards, made each year to the two highest scoring leaders from each of six districts, are sponsored by A&P.

Based on their efforts in Extension Homemakers, Community Development and 4-H programs, the women are scored on their organizational work, project work and participation in the clubs' activities.

In addition, each woman writes a narrative describing the values she has received from her leader work.

Each leadership award winner received a silver tray. Awards were presented at the fall council meeting of the State Organization of Extension Homemakers Associations held at Blue Ridge Assembly, Black Mountain, Oct. 13.

Car Wash Ribbon Cutting

Perquimans County welcomes its first car wash and an official welcome is given by Hertford Mayor Bill Cox as he cuts the ribbon at Coleman Webb's place of business at the Harris Shopping Center. With Mayor Cox and Webb are Jean Harrison and Frank Roberts, secretary and manager, respectively, of the Chamber of Commerce. Also in the picture is a dirty car ready to be cleaned inexpensively and swiftly.

Anne Simpson At N.C. Wesleyan College

A Hertford student, Anne Harris Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester H. Simpson of Rt. 1, Box 168C, is enrolled at N.C. Wesleyan College in Rocky Mount for the 1971 fall term.

Proposed educational changes at N.C. Wesleyan, as the college enters its twelfth year, have attracted statewide recognition. A curriculum revision encompassing an entirely new academic program is under faculty consideration. It calls for adoption of a three-track curriculum which provides for academic flexibility, and a student's maximum initiative and independence in planning his education at this fully accredited coeducational Methodist liberal arts college. Miss Simpson is a sophomore and member of the college's largest choral group, the Wesleyan Singers.
