Pat Taylor Election Headquarters Opens Here

Election headquarters for gubernatorial candidate Pat Taylor were opened here on Tuesday morning in the old Hertford Bank Building. The Perquimans County campaign headquarters will be kept open from 9:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. each day and is being manned by volunteer workers interested in seeing Pat Taylor elected to the North Carolina Governorship. Taylor's County Campaign Manager Bob Hollowell has issued an open invitation to the citizens of the county to drop by the headquarters. "We have plenty of good music, free drinks and lots of information about Mr. Taylor", he adds. Contacted at the headquarters, Taylor's Area Manager Joe Nowell stated that, in light of Mr. Taylor's recent remarks concerning highway U.S. 17, he felt that support of Pat Taylor in the Albemarle Area would be strong in the second primary to be held on Saturday, June 3rd. "I just hope that the people will take the time to go and vote", Nowell said.

CONTINUOUS CLEAN

A continuous cleaning, or catalytic, oven system is designed to eliminate cleaning.

A catalytic material is mixed into the porcelain enamel coating of the oven liner panels. This material causes a chemical reaction at normal cooking temperatures that oxidizes food soils as they occur, says Mrs. Justine Rozier, extension home management specialist, North Carolina State University.

Veterans Administration

Forecasts that 1972 would be a big year for GI home loans were borne out during the first three months as last year's first quarter records were topped by 123 per cent, according to H.W. Johnson, Director of the Winston-Salem, Veterans Administration Regional Office. The VA reported that it guaranteed 91,200 loans during January, February and March of this year compared to 40,900 during the same period last year.

Loans during March reached 33,100, which was 13 per cent over February and 129 per cent over March 1971.

Johnson said applications for loans continued to come in at a brisk pace during the quarter as did requests for VA appraisals of homes. Requests leveled off for certificates of eligibility to buy homes with VA guaranteed loans.

Applications received during the first three months totaled 89,800 for a 43 per cent increase, and the March figure of 36,000 was 34 per cent up from February and 22 per cent up from March 1971.

Appraisal requests for the quarter, at 173,500, were up 18 per cent over last year, and the March figure of 69,700 was 22 per cent up from February and six per cent over March 1971.

Requests for eligibility certificates, at 208,800, were only a 6 per cent increase over the first quarter of 1971. March with 83,700 requests was up 27 per cent over February but down 3 per cent from March a year ago.

Johnson said a favorable climate for GI home loans is expected to continue because Administration steps to hold the interest rate for these loans at 7 per cent continue to be successful. It reached 8.5 per cent in December 1970.

Those eligible for GI home loans include: all veterans and eligible widows of World War II, Korean Conflict, Post Korean Conflict, Vietnam Era; and wives of servicemen officially listed as missing in action for more than 90 days; and servicemen who have served on active duty for at least 181 days. Information on GI home loans is available from VA offices and from representatives of local veterans' service organizations.

Depressed prices, brought on largely by over-production nationally took a big bite out of North Carolina's income from eggs in 1971. The gross farm income declined 13.5 percent to $117.2 million.
