RECOGNITION—Capt. Bill Tarkenton recently retired after nearly 20 years as a member of the Hertford Police Department. His own department and other local officials had already paid him tribute, but the Merchants Committee of the Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce also wanted to give him recognition for years of work in behalf of his community. This was done last week with a dinner at Anglers Cove, plus presentation of a silver plate and a plaque. Eric Haste Jr., chairman of the committee, did the honors.

The Iredell House in Edenton needs furniture! Participants attending the second biennial Edenton Symposium this week (April 18-20) are being asked to help with the furnishing of the James Iredell House, now one of the state's historic sites.

Home of the noted Revolutionary leader and Supreme Court judge, the house, built circa 1775, stands as a monument to the early patriot. In 1949 the Edenton Tea Party Chapter, National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, purchased the house to save it from possible demolition. In 1961, the state of North Carolina assumed ownership and has maintained the house since with the cooperation of the DAR and James Iredell Association.

Restoration of the house is expected to be completed in the near future, and proper furnishings are a must. Since the James Iredell Association, the DAR, and the Division of Archives and History, like most restoration organizations, have limited funds, and because of the spiraling prices of antiques, it is nearly impossible for the groups to acquire quality furnishings that the Iredells might have owned. So the appeal for tax deductible donations of furnishings or cash is going out to symposium participants and the general public.

Since no records specify the furnishings used in the Iredell House, it will be furnished as a typical 1770-1825 Edenton town residence. A guide just issued, based upon extensive research using period sources, outlines the many and varied needs for the restoration. The organizations involved urgently request the help of everyone in preserving a portion of North Carolina's and the nation's heritage.

Some of the items listed in the guide include furniture pieces such as Chippendale style four-post bed,

FROM VERMONT

"A BUSINESS MAN TO HIS CREDITORS"

"In reply to your request to send a check, I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it impossible. My stated financial condition is due to federal laws, state laws, county laws, city laws, corporation laws, liquor laws, mother-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, and outlaws.

Through these taxes I am compelled to pay a business tax, amusement tax, home tax, school tax, gas tax, light tax, water tax, sales tax, airport tax, income tax, food tax, furniture tax, and excise tax. I am required to get a business license, truck license, not to mention marriage license and dog license.

I am also required to contribute to every organization which the genius of man is capable of bringing to life: in women's relief, unemployment relief, and the gold digger's relief. Also to every hospital and charitable institution in the city, including the Red Cross, Black Cross, Purple Cross, and Double Cross.

For my own sake I am required to carry life insurance, property insurance, liability insurance, burglar insurance, earthquake insurance, business insurance, tornado insurance, and fire insurance.

My business is so geared that it is no easy matter for me to find who-owns-it. I am inspected, expected, suspected, and disrupted; examined, reexamined, informed, required, summoned, fined, commanded, and compelled until I provide an insupportable supply of money for every known need, desire, or hope of the human race.

Simply because I refused to donate to something or other, I am boycotted, talked about, lied about, held up and held down, and robbed until I am almost ruined.

I can honestly tell you that except for the miracle that happened I could not enclose this check. The wolf that comes to so many doors now-a-days just had pups in my kitchen. I sold them and here is the money."

N.C. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

I earnestly and wholeheartedly ask you and your family's support and vote on May 7th.

I have had 25 years experience working with the legislature on various needs and I feel that I have some concept of how, where and why we have been deprived of many things that the other sections of the state have gotten so generously. Thank you for your vote and support.

*Very truly yours,
