TAKE IT AWAY — Ann Young piles up the branches for caring away.

THE 'LITTLE MAN SWING' — Sheriff Julian Broughton has spent many hours hacking at and clearing the area.

A NEW DANCE STEP — Committee member Joe Nowell looks like he's doing a new dance step, but he's just putting his weight behind his task.

Park Being Cleared

A 7.3-acre site, unused state property for many years, will eventually become a park for Ocean Hiway travellers, complete with a picnic area and nature trails.

Located adjacent to the Highway Commission Division Shop on U.S. 17 here, it has been leased by the state to the Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce for a dollar a year.

While that organization does not have enough money to improve the property, it does boast manpower supplied by some of its members who donate their time and such equipment as trucks and chain saws, to hack underbrush and unwanted trees.

About 20 people have been spending several hours working at the site during the past few Saturday afternoons, and two Neighborhood Youth Corps members are devoting full time to the park for eight weeks this summer.

One of the hardest workers at the site is Mrs. Ann Young, whose idea it was to turn the property into a park. While not helping to cart heavy limbs around in 90-plus weather, she presides over meetings of the Chamber's Tourist and Recreation Committee seeking ideas for the park.

Some that will be utilized include picnic tables and grills, a nature trail, bathrooms, water, trash cans, flower and shrubbery displays, swings, a graveled parking area and driveway.

The only other park like it is in Dare County between Manns Harbor and Manteo. It is maintained by the state.

Perquimans County will put its own money into the park. The Board of Commissioners agreed recently to contribute $2,000. Some items, such as a few picnic tables and grills, and some money, will be donated.

Monthly upkeep is expected to amount to no more than $10 and the committee may ask an area civic club for help in that direction.

They will ask a local high school science club for help in maintaining the shrubbery at the park.

"It will be a project for them. One teacher has already expressed a great deal of interest in it," Mrs. Young said.

As a beautician the chairwoman is used to making people look prettier. With equal confidence she is leading the effort to beautify a neglected piece of land alongside the Ocean Hiway.

County Hires New Teachers

Two new teachers will be joining the existing faculty when those school bells ring in the fall. Newly appointed assistant superintendent Pat Harrell expressed his excitement as well as that of other Perquimans County School officials about the new addition and recently discussed it.

Ms. Maxine Wiggins will be teaching kindergarten at Perquimans County Central Grammar School in Winfall and Ms. Brenda Hollowell will be instructor of a newly formed art class at Perquimans County High School.

Ms. Wiggins, who resides in Hobbsville, is an experienced kindergarten teacher. She taught several years in the Gates County School system and last year, she taught kindergarten in the Nansemond County schools in Virginia. She will be one of two kindergarten teachers at the Central School in Winfall and will be filling a position left open when this year's teacher moved to another grade.

Ms. Wiggins said that she was glad to be back in North Carolina. In reference to the teaching position, she added, "It's a beautiful school and I think I'm really going to enjoy teaching there."

Ms. Brenda Hollowell of Route 4, Hertford is not actually a new teacher in the Perquimans Schools, but will be teaching a new course. Last year, she taught at Perquimans County Central Grammar School, Winfall in the Remedial Reading program. And in the fall, she will be the instructor for art at P.C.H.S. This is the first time that art will be offered at the high school. In August, Doc McCulloch, an art consultant with the state department of Public Instruction, will be meeting with Ms. Hollowell and other school personnel to work out the new art curriculum.

Ms. Hollowell is qualified for her new position since she was an art major at Meredith College in Raleigh. Before joining the Perquimans School System, she worked with the N.C. School for the Deaf.

At present, applications are being reviewed for other teaching positions which must be filled by the fall.

Board Meeting

The Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will hold its monthly meeting Monday night.

The time: 8 p.m. The place: The Municipal Building. The reason for attending: Matters of importance.

County Resident Looks Homeward

By KATHY NEWBERN Staff Writer

A Perquimans County native and his family will soon be returning to this area. Harry W. Winslow will be coming home after teaching in Norway for one year. The Winslows along with their two sons, Todd and Scott, will be completing their stay in Europe and returning around the first of August.

Prior to his teaching in Norway, Winslow taught at Northeastern High School for three years. Before that, he taught in Nash County for two years.

Winslow, a Perquimans native, graduated from Perquimans County High School. He received his B.S. in business and his M.B.A. in history from Atlantic Christian College in Wilson. Winslow also has a Master's degree in history from Appalachian State University.

In Norway, Winslow has been teaching Business Education and Social Studies at the Oslo American School Complex which is on the U.S. Air Force Base in Bekkestua, a suburb of Oslo.

Winslow obtained the position through an application at the Pentagon in Washington, D.C. Last year, before leaving, the couple was both excited and a bit nervous, but they agreed that the opportunity was one that they could not afford to decline.

And now the teaching contract has been fulfilled and the couple are preparing to return to this area.

Haste, Chesson On Resource Commission

Governor Jim Holshouser announced today the appointment of the 15-member Coastal Resources Commission.

The commission will be the regulating agency for implementation of the Coastal Area Management Act which passed the last session of the General Assembly.

The Act is aimed at managing growth in a 20-county coastal area. The commission's main functions will be to designate areas of environmental concern in that area; either approve or disapprove applications for construction projects in those areas of environmental concern; and establish guidelines for developing local land use plans.

With four exceptions, the members of the commission were chosen by local governments in the coastal area.

The Act authorizes the governor to appoint a member representing Coastal land development; another representing coastal land development financing; and one of the three at-large positions. The governor is also given the option of making an additional nomination when an eligible local government does not submit a nominee. Havelock did not submit a nominee, and Governor Holshouser used that option to appoint Dr. Gene R. Huntsman of Havelock to fill the position reserved for a member of a state or national conservation organization.

There are 10 Democrats and five Republicans on the commission. MARINE RELATED BUSINESS—T. Erie Haste, Jr. of Hertford. He was nominated by Perquimans County and Hertford. Haste, 39, is owner of City Marina in Perquimans and Camden Counties. He is a member of the Town Council in Hertford, former treasurer and president of the Albemarle Area Development Association. He is a director of the Perquimans County Industrial Development Corp.

Haste is a former secretary and past president of the Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce. He is a trustee of the Museum of the Albemarle in Elizabeth City, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Bank of North Carolina, N.A. of Hobbsville. He is a Democrat.

Workers Needed

Although work steadily continues on the new U.S. 17 North park site, more workers are needed.

Under the leadership of Ann Young, chairwoman, there will be another work day Saturday, July 13 at 2 p.m.

Members of the American Legion, Jaycees, Rotary Club, Young Farmer's and Ranchers, Ruritans and Lion's Club are all urged to come out and donate some time. All civic and church organizations are encouraged to send representatives.

Anyone and everyone is invited. Manpower is needed desperately. Only through cooperation will the park become a reality.
