Perquimans Team Places Second In Land Judging

The Albemarle F.F.A. Federation held its 21st. annual Land Judging Contest on March 27, in Camden County.

This contest is sponsored by the Albemarle Soil and Water Conservation

The Northeastern High F.F.A. team, coached by M.H. Oliver won first place and received $15.00. The Perquimans County High School team coached by F.T. Riddick placed second and received $10.00. The third place prize of $5.00 was awarded to Chowan High School F.F.A. team, E.S. White instructor. Arnold Parker had the highest individual amount and degree of these score and received $5.00.

The Vocational Agricultural instructors gives the F.F.A. boys classroom and field instruction on such soil characteristics as texture, color, drainage, permeability, slope, erosion and identification and distinction between top soil and sub-soil. They are taught to recognize the relation of each of these characteristics to one another and the influence they have on the capability of the soil. Combinations of these characteristics indicate the potential problems or hazards of specific areas of land which are grouped into land Northeastern High School classes based on the problems. They also receive training in the special treatment of these problems as determined by land class. These treatments consist of such possible recommendations as soil test, open ditch or tile drainage, terracing, contour farming, winter cover, conserve crop residue, strip cropping, and rotations.

Joe Covington, Soil Scientist with the Soil Conservation Service. selected the different land sites to be judged. Pits were dug so that the F.F. A. boys could look at and examine top soil and subsoil at these sites. Each boy had a score card which he filled out at each site.

Tax Tips From "Doctor Block"

Sometimes me thinks the pharmacist should put out his H&R Block shingle — especially around April

Seriously, just as we depend and appreciate the patronage of our customers, so our customers have come to appreciate and depend on his pharmacist for medical deduction information at tax-

kemember, unlike last year it's not necessary to list each doctor — just their total cost. All trips to and from the doctor's office or clinic (plus trips to the drug store, if made at the same time) merit a 7¢/mile deduction — along with, I might add, expenses for cabs, buses, tolls, and parking.

One final tip: Don't let shyness keep you from deducting the cost of glasses, false teeth, or hearing aids.
