The Snug Harbor Property Owners Association is not to be mistaken with other organizations in the community; it is an entity, and independent of all other clubs or leagues. This is the governing body of Snug Harbor of which all property owners are members. But to have voting privileges in the association, the member must have paid due assessments on his/her property on or before August 31, 1975.

Volunteer firemen of the Bethel Fire Department will meet Tuesday, September 2, at 7:30 p.m. at the Fire Station. Don Hobbs, E.J. Proctor Jr. and Pete Proctor will serve as co-hosts for the supper meeting.

A word of praise makes the difference.

Labor Day Message

By BILLY CREEL
Commissioner of Labor

Two and one-half million North Carolinians — citizens of every creed, color and occupation — are the subject of this message from their State Commissioner of Labor.

On Labor Day we salute these men and women, the workers of North Carolina, whose daily labor at their jobs builds the world in which we live and makes our State one of the nation's top industrial producers.

Nine out of every ten Tar Heel workers earn their living in manufacturing, construction, trade, transportation, services, and the many other types of nonfarm jobs. The tenth North Carolina worker, a farmer, keeps our State in the forefront of America's agricultural production.

Whether on or off the farm, we North Carolinians above all are a State of producers: makers of all the goods and providers of all the services needed to meet our nation's needs and keep our technological civilization on the move.

This Labor Day, 1975, marks the beginning of my 33rd month of efforts, as your Commissioner of Labor, to give the workers of North Carolina the progressive programs and services you deserve from your State Department of Labor.

We have made much progress toward that goal. With your support, and with the backing of business and industry and the General Assembly, we have been able to put into effect two raises in the minimum wage, overtime pay provisions, a wage payment act, State administration of the Occupational Safety and Health Act, and various other measures to advance the "health, safety and general well-being," not only of North Carolina workers but of all our citizens.

We have worked hard to improve the quality of apprenticeship and on-the-job training for our young people preparing themselves for useful and productive working careers.

Much progress has been made, but still more remains to be made. To the workers of North Carolina who have given us their support in this endeavor, I give assurance on this Labor Day 1975 of my firm and continuing commitment to making your State Department of Labor a first-class tool of State Government and an instrument of real service to the people.
