Jaycee banquet set

Each year the Perquimans County Jaycees host an award banquet honoring the outstanding young people, ages 18 to 35, of this county. Those young people who have been judged as giving the most praiseworthy service to family, church, community, nation and to the Jaycee organization will be honored at an awards ceremony. The banquet will be held in January during Jaycee Week.

To make this project a total success the local Jaycee chapter will, again as last year, conduct a fund drive to obtain the financial support needed to ensure that proper tribute may be given to our young local citizens.

Wayne Winslow, Awards Night chairman, announced, "This year's nominees will be judged and a winner selected from five areas of accomplishment. Those are Outstanding Young Educator, Farmer, Firefighter and Rescuer, which is new this year. The Distinguished Service Award will also be given again this year. Local businesses, I cannot stress enough how much your support is needed."

4-Hers

Mr. Larry Johnson will be the guest speaker at joint county wide meeting of the 4-H County Council and the 4-H Leaders Organization on Monday, November 13, at 8 p.m.

CHURCH BAZAAR - The Hertford Methodist Church held its annual bazaar November 1 at the church from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Rev. Amos Stone and Mrs. Nathan Sawyer, pictured above and heading the project, reported their net earnings was over $4000. Over 500 people came to look and buy the crafts made by the women of the church. There was also a very enjoyable luncheon served. (Staff photo by Tony Jordan)

GRAND JURY REPORT RECOMMENDS NEGRO SCHOOL AT WINFALL: The Grand Jury report at the October term of Superior Court, which was turned in Wednesday morning by Foreman A.W. Hefren, declared the Winfall Colored Schools "a disgrace to the County", and recommendation was made for the erection of a new building before the next school term. At present, the Negro children occupy four wooden buildings, all of which were considerably beyond repair.

TWO VOLUNTEERS APPLY TO LOCAL DRAFT BOARD FOR YEAR'S TRAINING: Two, possibly three volunteers have applied to the local draft board for a year's military training, according to J.R. Stokes, chairman of the local board. These youths are George Butler, Hertford, and Francis Edward Willey, Route 3 Hertford. Another youth, whose name was not given, volunteered but it was found that he was under age and therefore he was sent home to get his parents consent.

FUTURE FARMERS HOLD INITIATION FOR NEW MEMBERS FRIDAY NIGHT: The Perquimans County Chapter of the Future Farmers of America held their annual initiation of new members on Friday night of last week. This was the largest initiation of new members ever held by the Perquimans Chapter, thirty-seven new members being taken in. New members taking the initiation were: John Asbell, Aubrey Baker, Lester Baker, Horace Boyce, Lloyd Chaulk, Harvey Chappell, Preston Copeland, Hubert Dail, Leroy Dail, Belvin Eure, Melvin Eure, Hallet Evans, Earlie Goodwin, Thomas Harris, Johnny Hunter, Hazel Jackson, Bobby Keaton, Leroy Lamb, Donald Lane, Ned Matthews, Carrol Perry, Robert Perry, Vernon Lee Perry, Charlie F. Reed, Melvin Rountree, Julian Tadlock, Medford Trueblood, Hilton White, Jake White, Calvin Wilson, Carl Winslow, Clarence Winslow, Clinton Winslow, and George Wood.

Volunteer needed

Perquimans County is in need of a volunteer weather observer. There is an effort being made to establish a weather station in the 100 counties of North Carolina.

If you are interested in weather and would like to do this, please call Richard Bryant, at 426-5428. You will be furnished a rain gauge and post, a maximum-minimum therмомeter, an instruction sheet, and a touch tone pad that will be used in reporting the weather data to a computer in Washington, D.C. via telephone. You have a toll free number to call so there is no expense to the volunteer.

"You should live outside any town in the county, and be around home most days," states Mr. Bryant.

NEW BOOKS

GAD'S HALL by Norah Lofts places an unsuspecting family in a haunted house filled with secrets of the past.

A RAGE AGAINST HEAVEN by Fred Stewart novelizes the period from 1860-70 in the Civil War South, Maximilian's Mexico, the Second Empire in Paris, and scandalous postwar Washington during Grant's presidency.

THE SUMMER SOLDIER by Nicholas Guild concerns a retired spy whose wife is murdered in revenge for the Soviet spy's wife he mistakenly killed years before.

THE STARRS OF TEXAS by Warren Leslie is a novel about a super-fashionable department store catering to the Texas super-rich, much like Nieman-Marcus.

THE FAR ARENA by Richard Sapir gives us a frozen Roman gladiator who is thawed and received to give his first hand account of life in Imperial Rome.

THE SAVAGE BROOD by Martha Rofheart is the five century saga of a stage theatrical family from Renaissance England to modern Hollywood.

CAIN'S DAUGHTERS by Doris Shannon puts the disowned daughter of northern industrialists in the Civil War South where she is also unwelcome and takes her through the decline and fall of the Confederacy.

Disco dance

A disco dance class will be offered, under the supervision of the Community Schools Program, starting November 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the Perquimans County Union School. Ms. Gladys Hall, coordinator, said the cost for the 6-meeting class will be $1 and will continue until December 19 on Tuesday nights. For more information, contact Hall or the class teacher, Ms. Sandra Madge, at 426-5741.

Sing coming

The first annual "Family Sing" will be held at Chappell Hill Baptist Church, Rt. 1, Tyner, on November 12, starting at 2:30 p.m.

The service of special music selections rendered by several of the families in the church membership along with their children as well as good congregational singing.

Many of the old hymns of faith, so dear to the hearts of Christians everywhere, will be included in the program.

Billy Old, Pastor of Chappell Hill Baptist Church, extends an invitation to who would come and share in this time of musical fellowship.

Council to meet

The Parents Advisory Council of the Perquimans County Central Grammar School will meet Nov. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

There will be a slide presentation given by Miss Cynthia Norman. All parents are invited to attend.
