Area volunteer named for June

Carlyn Brown of Perquimans County has been named Hospice Volunteer of the month for May 1987. Mrs. Brown has been working with the same patient for the past two years making weekly visits of at least an hour. The family states that she has been a stabilizing factor and has helped to maintain the household.

This is the third year Carlyn has served as a Hospice Volunteer and she, like so many other volunteers, says that it is very hard to explain how much it has meant to her. She keeps herself busy when she's not working for Perquimans County Department of Social Services by taking care of her family and volunteering for the Perquimans Rescue Squad. Congratulations Carlyn!

The Perquimans Weekly,
In the account of the Heritage Day Celebration on Saturday, June 14, it was stated that this year's Heritage Day Celebration closes the observance of America's 400th Anniversary in Perquimans County. This statement is not correct.
The United Methodist churches and the A.M.E. Zion churches will celebrate the history of their denomination on August 16, 1987. This celebration will be held at the New Hope United Methodist Church at 3:00 p.m. as Methodism began here in Perquimans County.
This Methodist ceremony will be the last of America's 400th celebration in Perquimans County.
Sincerely yours,
Dorothy Barbee

Rayburn selected to attend workshop

Stuart Rayburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walker Rayburn of Route 5, Hertford, and a ninth grader at Perquimans County High School this past year, has been selected to represent Perquimans County at the 1987 Resource Conservation Workshop to be held June 21-26, at N.C. State University in Raleigh.

The week long course is held each year for high school students who are interested in pursuing conservation careers, the workshop indesigned to stimulate young people to become staunch advocates of conservation.

Students from surrounding counties will go and study as a group various subjects pertinent to resource conservation, including soil characteristics and soil conservation, watershed and wildlife management, forestry woodlot management, and non-agricultural uses of soil. Career opportunities in the fields of conservation and development, along with a well-rounded recreation program, are also a part of the curriculum.

The workshop is an annual event sponsored by the N.C. Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, The N.C. Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America, the N.C. Soil and Water Commission, and the Soil Science Department and the Division of Continuing Education of N.C. State University. Locally Stuart is sponsored by the Perquimans County Soil and Water Conservation Committee.
