The torch arrives!

Linda Raymond, Ben Roberts, George White, Tom Terranova, Elmer Boyce, Lloyd "Fletch" Dail, and Jay Mansfield look on.

Olympic festival torch visits Town of Hertford

On Sunday, residents of Perquimans County had an opportunity to glimpse history in the making as the Olympic Festival Torch passed through Perquimans County.

The torch arrived at the Perquimans County line shortly before 5:00 p.m., carried by Ben Roberts, and made its way towards Hertford carried by Linda Raymond, Elmer Boyce, Jay Mansfield, and Mr. Pete Mansfield.

As approximately 100 citizens looked on the torch arrived inside the city limits of Hertford carried by Mr. Pete Mansfield who was also accompanied by Mr. Ben Roberts and Mr. Lloyd "Fletch" Dail, and was carried several blocks through town past Missing Mill Park before arriving in front of the court house for a short program planned by the Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce, the Town of Hertford, and Perquimans County.

The program which began at 6:00 p.m. featured patriotic songs led by Mr. Jerry Elmore, Director of Youth and Music at Hertford Baptist Church, a welcome by Mrs. Mary Harrell, Executive Director of the Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce, a few words by Mayor Bill Cox, and Mr. Paul Gregory, Perquimans County Manager, and few short comments by Mr. Jack Hughes, Torch Run Coordinator for the Olympic Festival.

Mr. Paul Gregory stated in his comments Sunday the historical significance of the torch, and reminded everyone that we should keep that in mind as the torch passed through our area. "We should be reminded of the 400th anniversary of North Carolina on this occasion, and we should not forget the historical significance of this activity," said Gregory. Gregory was referring to fact that the torch will travel through 400 North Carolina communities before it reaches its destination in honor of North Carolina's 400th anniversary.

Following the program members of the community had an opportunity to hold the torch before it began its journey toward the county line.

Mr. Ben Roberts carried the torch out of town accompanied by fellow runners George White, Tom Terranova, Pete Mansfield, Elmer Boyce, and Lloyd "Fletch" Dail, who dropped out at Hardees to take their places further down the torch's path.

The seven Perquimans County runners carried the torch a total of approximately 16 miles, and according to Ben Roberts it was a very worth wild experience.

"It's been an experience I'll never forget," said Roberts. "I really enjoyed it."

The Olympic Festival Torch began its 26 day journey toward the triangle area on Saturday, June 22nd in Wilmington, North Carolina. It will arrive in Raleigh on July 17th for the opening ceremonies of the festival having passed through 88 of the state's 100 counties, and traveling over 2,800 miles.

Before the run is over almost 8000 people will have carried the torch, although not all of them will be running, and according to Hughes every citizen of North Carolina will be within 150 miles of the torch's route during the 26 day run.

Martin proclaims state hurricane awareness week

RALEIGH—Governor Jim Martin has proclaimed the week of July 5-11 as "Hurricane Awareness Week" in North Carolina.

Governor Martin said, "Since 1984, three hurricanes have crossed the state's coast, killing four people and causing more than $98 million in property damage. Despite the threat posed by these weather occurrences, our coastal population has increased by 41 percent during the past 25 years. The challenge facing us is how to evacuate people from flood-prone areas in an orderly and timely fashion."

In response to this challenge, state and federal officials have developed a hurricane evacuation study. This three-year planning effort by state and federal agencies will give local authorities in coastal counties the information they need to decide what areas to evacuate, when to begin, how long the evacuation will take to complete, and where to put the evacuees.

Longtime residents of North Carolina remember the powerful hurricanes that struck the state in the fifties when four hurricanes passed over North Carolina. The strongest of the storms was Hurricane Hazel in October of 1954. Next to Florida, North Carolina has the highest incidence of hurricane landfalls along the Atlantic Coast. However, during the 60s and 70s, hurricane landfalls were most common along the Gulf of Mexico.

In 1984, the long lull in hurricane activity ended for North Carolina with the passage of Hurricane Diana, followed by Gloria in 1985 and Charley in 1986. Hurricane Charley was a minor storm; however, it demonstrated how difficult it is to quickly evacuate some of the barrier islands during the tourist season.

The hurricane evacuation study may not eliminate traffic jams, but it will give local decision makers the information they need to decide when to evacuate and where. The study includes extensive studies of coastal geography and population patterns. It identifies evacuation corridors and evacuation clearance times, analyzes the behavior of coastal residents and vacationers, and describes the wind and storm surge that would occur with different intensity hurricanes.

The evacuation study is the focus of "Hurricane Awareness Week," an annual effort by the N.C. Department of Crime Control and Public Safety's Division of Marine Affairs, and the National Weather Service.

Officially, hurricane season begins June 1 and continues through November 30. In North Carolina, most hurricanes occur during the months of August, September, and October.

Keith Haskett is the emergency management coordinator for the county. Anyone needing additional information may contact Mr. Haskett at 426-5564.

Five injured in wreck

Five people were injured Saturday morning as the result of a wreck involving a tractor trailer and an automobile.

The accident occurred on Harvey Point Road at approximately 3:30 a.m. Saturday, June 27th. The tractor trailer driven by Edward LeRoy Blackwell, a resident of Kenbridge, Virginia, was attempting to turn around on the two lane road, but missed the driveway, and got stuck in the ditch. After several attempts to remove the truck from the ditch, Blackwell went across U.S. 17 to Hardees to call police for assistance, and while he was on the phone a 1987 Pontiac Grand Am, driven by Marvin Godfrey, Route 2, Hertford, ran into the truck.

Godfrey, who was traveling west on Harvey Point Road, hit the truck which was across his lane of travel head on.

Godfrey stated at the time of the accident that he did not see the truck because it had no flares or lights on the trailer. Blackwell, the driver of the truck stated at the time of the accident that several other vehicles had traveled past the truck without incident.

Following an investigation of the accident on Monday, June 29th, Senior Patrolman Tim Spence of the Hertford Police Department reported that the investigation revealed that the driver of the vehicle was traveling at approximately 55 miles an hour in a 55 mile an hour zone, and that he attempted to stop approximately 32 feet from the truck as judged from the skid marks on the road at the scene of the incident. Spence also stated that the cause of the accident is not known for sure. According to Spence the driver of the car had consumed some alcohol, but was not impaired at the time of the accident.

Upon conclusion of the investigation, Spence reported that no charges pertaining to the wreck will be filed. Damages to the car are estimated at approximately $13,000.00, there was no damage to the truck.

All five passengers traveling in the car were injured. They were taken to Albemarle Hospital for treatment.

Hertford to vote on bond referendum

On Wednesday, June 22, 1987, the Town of Hertford held a public hearing and adopted the bond order entitled, "BOND ORDER AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $200,000 SANITARY SEWER BONDS OF THE TOWN OF HERTFORD".

The election regarding this particular bond order will be held in the Town of Hertford on August 11th.

Farmers Home Administration has approved the purchase of the bonds, and would hold the bonds a 6.5 annual percentage rate.

The $200,000 sanitary sewer bonds, if voted in would allow payment of capital costs for upgrading and improving the town's facilities for the collection, treatment and disposal of sewage, including the construction and reconstruction of sewage facilities and the acquisition and installation of machinery and equipment necessary for such facilities.

This bond order is the result of twelve years of study on the facility, and work on obtaining money for the updating of the facility.

In 1975 the Town of Hertford was notified by the Environmental Protection Agency that they felt it was necessary for the waste treatment facility to be updated, and a 201 study on the facility began.

The 201 study was done to ensure that the town could qualify for an Environmental Protection Agency grant and was conducted by W. F. Freeman and Associates of Highpoint, North Carolina. Upon completion of the study it was determined that upgrading was necessary. The present facility is currently operating beyond its designed capacity, and it must be upgraded to meet the town's current needs, and those projected for the future.

The town's existing facility handles about 300,000 gallons per day, and was constructed in 1966-67. The proposed upgraded facility would handle approximately 400,000 gallons. The study determined that the modifications on the facility are necessary in order that the facility continue to meet all N.P.D.E.S. permit conditions both in organics and flow of the system.

In a preliminary engineering report done on the facility the engineers state that the facility is in very good shape, but also add that the facility must be updated to handle the present needs of the town, and projected community growth.

The engineer's report also states that the proposed modifications are necessary, and that capital cost of the improvements will be kept to a minimum by utilizing as much of the existing structures as possible.

The total cost of updating the facility is being projected at $397,500.00; however, $192,460.00 of that cost is being provided from an EPA grant, $38,000.00 is coming from North Carolina clean water bond money, and the remaining $167,040.00 will be coming from the bonds issued by the town. The $167,040.00 has been increased to $200,000.00 to allow some additional monies for variances in bids and hidden costs.

The total costs for the project is broken down as follows: $307,800.00 dollars in construction costs, $52,000.00 in technical costs, $9,700.00 in legal and administrative costs, and $28,000.00 in contingency costs.

The proposed modifications will break down to $8.07 dollars per month per user.

Additional information on voting places and other pertinent information regarding the bond referendum will be forthcoming prior to the August 11th voting date.
