

outreach

Human Resources in Action
in North Carolina

Mimi Cunningham

It's all in the Stars

ASTROLOGY GUIDE

By
Lauren Hill

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return for the year ending January 1-December 31, 1974, or other taxable year. U.S. Treasury Department—Internal Revenue Service

1040 Taxpayers Ask IRS

Question and Answer Column No. 73-82

Monday August 20 marked the end of summer vacation and the beginning of school for close to 1100 deaf and hard-of-hearing children who attend one of North Carolina's three schools for the deaf.

According to Rance Henderson, director of the Schools for the Deaf, North Carolina Department of Human Resources this year's enrollment represents capacity level and full utilization of facilities.

The opening of school at the N.C. School for the Deaf, located in Morganton, marked the beginning of its 79th school session. This year a total of 610 students are attending school on the Morganton campus.

The high school at NCSD serves the entire state, while its kindergarten through grade eight program draws children from the western part of the state.

Temporarily located in Raleigh is the newest of the three educational facilities for North Carolina's hearing impaired, serving North Carolina's central region. The Central N.C. School for the Deaf, established in 1971, has 131 students enrolled in its kindergarten through second grade program. The Central School is expected to be located in its permanent headquarters in Greensboro by 1975. The Central School adds a grade each year and will do so until it offers through grade eight.

Serving eastern North Carolina is the School for the Deaf in Wilson, which offers kindergarten through grade eight. This year 350 students are attending the Eastern School for the Deaf.

According to Henderson, the three schools are incorporating some innovative and exciting new ideas in their programs for the 1973-74 school year.

The Central School in Raleigh is providing its students a service that is unique in the United States and perhaps in the world — an academic day that runs from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. In other words, a professionally trained teacher of the deaf is with the children all day, during classroom hours as well as after school in their dormitories until bedtime.

Henderson said children benefit from this because their learning does not end when they get out of class. "A hearing child continues learning after he goes home from school during his interaction and communication with parents and friends. Because a child is deaf does not mean that his learning should stop when class is over and his trained teacher goes home.

"At the Central School, a separate staff of professionally trained teachers of the deaf comes on duty at 2:30 and they interact with the students until they go to bed," he said.

Also, for the first time this year, all of the classes at the Central School will operate on the open classroom principle.

This fall at the Eastern N.C. School for the Deaf in Wilson will be a program for moderate to serious retarded deaf children aged six to nine years, a project which the school has not previously attempted. The Eastern School has set three initial goals for these children — to teach them to care for their own needs; to teach them to learn to live and work with others; and to help them acquire some language skills.

At the School for the Deaf in Morganton, there will be a substantial expansion of the use of the open classroom approach, Henderson noted. He said the open classroom approach of allowing each student to advance at his own rate of speed works particularly well with deaf children.

NCSD will also be implementing a program of career education at the school, with the purpose of helping the students acquire an early knowledge of the world of work. "A problem we were frequently facing was that our students were making decisions about their vocations without the necessary background information about what other job possibilities were available," Henderson said.

The high school will be operating with a completely revised curriculum this year. "As a

Aries "The Ram" (Mar 21 - Apr 20) Your performance, good or bad, is certain to be of keen concern to the many friends and members of your family who are depending on you. Don't let anyone down, least of all yourself. Forget about the "Quick-witted, fast-talking" act for once, chum.

Taurus "The Bull" (Apr 21 - May 21) You start enterprises with great enthusiasm and then fall by the wayside. You must be a finisher, if you want to achieve. Don't let little delays and oppositions stop you from completing what you start. Don't be afraid of getting hurt.

Gemini "The Twins" (May 22 - June 21) Often when a situation is very difficult to bear it is better to remove one's self from the environment. The fringe benefits you have enjoyed from being part of a "household" will have to be forfeited, won't they?

Cancer "The Crab" (June 22 - July 23) Instead of looking at what you consider to be the negative features of your personality and life, you must start to emphasize love and loyalty given to the positive aspects. Each day remind yourself that you are a person of worth. A small beginning, but it result," Henderson said, "more courses will be offered and the students will have much greater freedom of choice in selecting which courses they take. We feel that this essentially results in a greater individualization of programs for the high school student."

Henderson said that during the coming school year there will be much greater utilization of school facilities and programs for training purposes. For example, he said that for students who want to pursue a career in business, the school's business office and its equipment will be available. Also, students who want careers in teaching will be given the opportunity to work in classrooms at the school in a capacity similar to a teacher's aide.

Academics aren't all that interest the faculty and students at the Schools for the Deaf. The high school students especially are looking forward to their opening football game Aug. 31 with West Wilkes High School, the first of a nine-game season.

leads to a steadily increasing level of self-esteem.

Leo "The Lion" (July 24 - Aug 23) Make up your mind that you can't please them all. What people say they want and what they actually want are two different things. No person can be all things to all people, if you try, you're going to be in for a pot of trouble.

Virgo "The Virgin" (Aug 24 - Sept 23) Many of the so-called friends who are gathering around you now will take flight soon, dear Virgo. Don't be taken in by their honeyed words. Stiffen your backbone and speak your piece. You should be especially wary of a Scorpion... very close to Libra "The Balance" (Sept 24 - Oct 23) You must not live in the past... or the future, dear Lib. One is dead and the other is not yet born. Live in the present. Do the best with what you have at hand.

Do not speculate about tomorrow. Take one day at a time and enjoy it. Scorpion "The Scorpion" (Oct 24 - Nov 22) We seldom think about the love and loyalty given to us by a mate until we get into a tight spot. You will be reminded of this soon, Scorp. Try to be more protective of your loved ones. Give more of yourself to your family.

Sagittarius "The Archer" (Nov 23 - Dec 21) You are so bent on having a hobby, Luv, why not find one that can make money for you. That way you'll have fun and profit together. Most of our successes depend on the amount of effort we put into the project at hand.

Capricorn "The Goat" (Dec 22 - Jan 20) Look to your Libran friend for advice and assistance this week, you might make a good investment on that say-so. Virgos, too, could be helpful and their views should be given careful consideration. Take a dim view of a proposal coming on the next Tuesday.

Aquarius "Water Bearer" (Jan 21 - Feb 19) An old friend will enter your life... and stay. It is a long time since you have met someone who can hold your interest, but this is the time, Luv. Don't quibble over small details, they aren't that important. Make a few adjustments in your financial arrangements soon to avoid difficulties.

ITCHING LIKE MAD? Get this doctor's formula! Zemo speedily stops torment of externally caused itching... of eczema, minor skin irritations, non-poisonous insect bites. Desensitizes nerve endings. Kills millions of surface germs. "De-itch" skin with Zemo—Liquid or Ointment.

Pisces "The Fishes" (Feb 20 - Mar 20) Perhaps some of that slow build-up is beginning to take effect. But don't take too much for granted, the battle is not yet won. Adjust to the present situation and play the waiting game. Better luck after the end of the month.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are one of those fast-talking, energetic and impetuous individuals who are apt to act on impulse, and are

Continued on Page 6

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. My wife and I are going to purchase one U.S. Savings Bond each month for my son's college education. Would it be more advantageous from a tax standpoint if I purchased the bonds naming my son and myself as co-owners or naming him sole owner?

A. From a tax standpoint, naming your son sole owner of the bonds would be more advantageous, since interest on U.S. Savings Bonds bought in the name of the child is income to the child not the parent. This is so even if the parent paid for the bonds and is named beneficiary. However, interest on bonds purchased by a parent naming his child as co-owner is taxable to the parent. For more information, see IRS publication 576, "Tax Information on United States Savings Bonds." Contact your local Internal Revenue office for a free copy.

Q. Are brokerage fees deductible?

A. Fees you pay a broker to collect your bond interest or dividends on shares of stock are deductible as miscellaneous deductions. But brokerage fees paid to acquire investment property, such as stocks or bonds, are not deductible. They are added to the cost of the property.

Q. I work as a waitress in a restaurant. Occasionally, a group of customers will use our banquet room for a private party. Instead of tipping, customers are required to pay a service charge which is split among the waiters, waitresses and other employees. Should I report this amount as a "tip" to my employer for tax purposes?

A. No. Your share of this service charge is not a tip, but is part of your wages paid by the employer. As such, it is taxable, but does not have to be included in your report of tips to your employer.

Q. My son is 20 and works full time during the day and goes to school at night. Can I still claim him as a dependent regardless of how much money he makes?

A. Generally, you may not claim a person as a dependent if he had gross income of $750 or more during the year. The only exceptions to this rule occur if your child is less than 19 at the end of the year or a full time student during five months of the year. In your son's case, he is over 19 and is not considered a full time student because he is attending night school and is employed full time during the day.

Consumer's Corner

by Barry L. Boneno

Executive Director
High Point Consumer
Credit Counseling

Just as everyone is a consumer, almost everyone uses the credit system. Home mortgages, automobile financing, credit cards, charge accounts — credit is extended in many forms. Each has its benefits and hazards.

Properly understood and wisely used, credit permits a higher standard of living and more economic productivity than would be possible in a strictly "pay as you go" society.

But, the un knowledgeable or unrestrained use of credit has put millions of families in financial jeopardy and contributes to other such domestic ills as alcoholism, emotional disorders and divorces.

Everyone that has ever used credit has this fact recorded in some Credit Bureau. The purpose of this is to record the past paying record of credit holders who are applicants for additional credit. What do you know about your credit record? Of course you have one. Where is it filed? What does it contain?

Besides serving as a reference to the retailer with whom you might want to open an account, your record is also available to prospective employers, insurance companies and others.

If you move, your record follows you. If it includes adverse or inaccurate information, that will follow you too.

The Fair Credit Reporting Act of 1971 has provisions for your protection. You can request from the Credit Bureau a report to you in person.

There is a small charge for the service unless you have been denied credit, employment or insurance within the previous 30 days due to a Credit Bureau report.

The Bureau will tell you everyone who has received your record for the past six (6) months, and anyone who has requested it for employment purposes for the prior two (2) years. If you prove that it contains an error, the Bureau will send correction notices to all of them at no charge to you.

If you feel that there is an error — but can't provide substantive evidence — you have the right to submit a written explanation or refutation of the item. Your statement will be appended to the record in any subsequent disclosure. For further information contact your local Credit Bureau or consumer Credit Counseling Service.

THIS IS Your Paper USE IT

Don't Waste Your Money With Unappreciative Merchants

CROSSWORD Answers on page eight

1. At the top	4. Equal	22. American
2. Barroom	5. Elaborate	23. Indian
3. Ice cream drink	6. God of war	24. Georgia (abbr.)
7. Land barrier	7. Land barrier	25. Capital of Canada (abbr.)
8. Ruhr city	8. Ruhr city	26. Scorches
9. Respond	9. Respond	27. Scorches
10. Large worm	10. Large worm	28. Confederate
11. Brain membrane	11. Brain membrane	29. General
12. Naively	12. Naively	30. Exclamation
13. Trouble	13. Trouble	31. Music drama
14. Half ens point (abbr.)	14. Half ens point (abbr.)	32. Month
15. Telephone operators	15. Telephone operators	33. Spoken
16. Cause of joy	16. Cause of joy	34. Bullet
17. Othello's adviser	17. Othello's adviser	35. War
18. Distribute	18. Distribute	36. Mandarin tea
19. Grass	19. Grass
20. Even (poet.)	20. Even (poet.)
21. Tantalum (sym.)	21. Tantalum (sym.)
22. Resist	22. Resist
23. Box scientifically	23. Box scientifically
24. Misters (Ger.)	24. Misters (Ger.)
25. Talons	25. Talons
26. Coin of Iran	26. Coin of Iran
27. Hoops	27. Hoops
28. Confederate	28. Confederate
29. Growls old	29. Growls old
30. Into pieces	30. Into pieces
31. Narrated	31. Narrated
32. Poems	32. Poems

DEADLINE

THE DEADLINE for news and pictures to appear in the TRIBUNAL AID is THURSDAY NOON.

Material arriving at this newspaper afterwards will be published the following week.

MAIL TO:
THE TRIBUNAL AID
P. O. Box 921
High Point, N.C. 27261

Buying a new house? Want to give it that special touch?

Come in and see us for the latest latest in Home Furnishings!

Credit Available
Bank Cards Welcomed

from 9: a.m. - 9: p.m. Mon. thru Sat.

FURNITURE WHOLESALE

Everything Discounted - Nothing Retail - Special Orders Available

205 N. CENTENNIAL AVE. HIGH POINT, N.C. 885-5419

SUBSCRIBE TO THE TRIBUNAL AID

Please register me as a subscriber to THE TRIBUNAL AID for the following twelve months. Enclosed is my six dollars ($6.00) advanced subscription dues.

I understand THE TRIBUNAL AID will be responsible for the postage cost and delivery of the paper, and that my subscription will be effective upon the receipt of this completed form.

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY AND STATE _____
ZIP CODE _____

SIGNED _____

MAIL TO:
THE TRIBUNAL AID
P. O. Box 921
High Point, N.C. 27261

SK

SILVER KNIT INDUSTRIES, INC.
Outlet Store
212 E. RUSSELL ST.
Save 50% or more on first quality merchandise
Ladies - Polyester Slacks
Body Suits Panty Hose
MEN'S, BOY'S, GIRL'S
HOSIERY
STORE HOURS
CLOSED MONDAY
TUES. THUR FRI.
10 30 A.M. - 5:30 P.M.
SAT. 10:00 A.M. - 5:00 P.M.

Country Furniture Company Inc.

607 IDOL DRIVE • P. O. BOX 5085 • HIGH POINT, NORTH CAROLINA 27262
PHONES 882-3016 • 882-8956 • 882-4412 • 882-3511

Representing over 300 nationally known manufacturing companies. Everything sold at a discount. Large display of furniture for your shopping pleasure.

Four Interior Decorators To Serve You!

COOLIDGE MURROW Owner
FRED MOON Store Manager

STORE HOURS
Monday Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday
8:30 a.m. til 6:00 p.m.

Friday 8:30 a.m. til 9: p.m. Saturday 8:30 a.m. til 5:30 p.m.

WE SHIP ANYWHERE