News and Notes

HIGH POINT - Pre-school story hour will begin next week for 4 and 5-year-olds at High Point Public Library. It has been announced by Miss Elizabeth Gurley, head of children's services.

The programs will be held on Monday and Tuesday afternoons at 1:30 p.m. in the children's library. No prior registration of children is required.

Pre-school story hour, an annual feature of the children's library from October through April, offers young children the chance to become familiar with books, good stories and regular visits to the library. In addition to storytime, the program includes songs, finger games, rhymes and occasional films.

For information check with the children's division at High Point Public Library.

LEXINGTON, N.C. - The Heavenly Landers will celebrate their 3rd Anniversary at the Buncombe Baptist Church in the Petersville Community beginning Saturday October 19, 1974 at 7:30 P.M. with Rev. Rufus Wyatt, pastor of the Aniock Baptist Church, Granite Quarry, N.C. bringing the message. Several singing groups will accompany him.

On Sunday October 20 at 2:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., different groups from throughout North and South Carolina will participate on the program. The pastor Rev. S. Walter Mack and the Heavenly Landers invite all singing groups and churches to come help make this anniversary a success.

HIGH POINT - New Hope Baptist Church - The pastor, choirs and congregation will be the guest church at Emmanuel Baptist Church on Leonard Street, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Ordination services will be held for Mr. James Covington Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. The pastor, Dr. E.J. Love, will deliver a doctrinal sermon.

GREENSBORO - The IRS announced today (October 10) through Technical Information Release 1313 that certain student loans cancelled because the former students taught or practiced in North Carolina will not be included in taxable income if the loans were made prior to June 11, 1973.

The change applies only to such student loans made prior to June 11, 1973. Acting Director F. Clare Shy indicated that the 1971 and/or 1972 returns of approximately 800 North Carolina taxpayers are affected by the Ruling.

To expedite adjustment and refunds, where applicable, the Greensboro office of IRS will notify those individuals who are involved that adjustments to their returns will be made without any further action being required by the taxpayer. Taxpayers who have paid additional 1971 or 1972 taxes this year with respect to such loans as a result of audit by IRS will receive refunds.

However, if any affected individual does not receive such a notice of adjustment with the next two weeks he should telephone IRS through its toll-free number - (800) 822-8800 and report the matter.

HIGH POINT - A meeting of the general membership of the High Point Bicycle Club will be held on Sunday, October 13, 1974, at 2:00 P.M. on the lawn behind the First Presbyterian Church, 918 North Main Street, High Point. The meeting, which is open to the public, is being held to further discuss the final plans for the Bike-A-Thon which is being co-sponsored on October 26, 1974, by the American Cancer Society and the High Point Bicycle Club. Sponsor forms for those wishing to participate in the Bike-A-Thon will be available at this meeting. All members of the Club and other interested persons are urged to attend this important meeting of the High Point Bicycle Club, and to participate in the Bike-A-Thon.

HIGH POINT - The Boy Scout Service Center of the Uwharrie Council has moved its offices in High Point. Their new location is in the former VFW building at 1908 South Main Street, High Point.

In spite of the move to new quarters, the Service Center telephone will remain 882-6029.

HIGH POINT - Space remains in the sewing class offered on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 p.m. Students will receive individual instruction in advance sewing skills. Instructor is Nell Sechler. Call the YWCA for further information.

WINSTON-SALEM
The Kuandeala Alumni Chapter of Winston-Salem State University is sponsoring its first annual "Miss Junior Ram Pagaent" at the Benton Convention Center on October 26, 1974. Five local teenage girls will be competing for the title of "Miss Junior Ram 1974". Kuandeala is a Swahili word meaning "progressive" and this chapter feels that in order to progress there must be involvement; therefore, they are seeking to involve the entire community into the activities of WSSU. Along with this event, which will climax during the homecoming festivities, the chapter sponsors "Family Night" during the basketball season. Proceeds from both events are donated to the University's Development Fund.

The five contestants competing for the title of "Miss Junior Ram" are:
PAMELA DARGEN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.N. Dargen of 2514

Patterson Avenue. Sandra is a sophomore at Hanes High School.

LYNNE RENEE GWYN, daughter of Mrs. Lois Gwyn of 1822 N. Trade

Street and the late Mr. Pinkney Gwyn. Lynne is a senior at East Forsyth High School.

SANDRA YVONNE HOLLOMAN, daughter of Mrs. R.L. Holloman of 2503 Gilmer Avenue and the late Mr. Robert Holloman. Sandra is a sophomore at Hanes High School.

WILLIETTE PATTON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Patton of 1120 Wooden Avenue. Williette is a sophomore at Atkins High School.

Hosting the night's festivities will be Ted Cuthrell of WAAA Radio Station and the Eliminators Band.

National Black Network Forms New Wire Service

NEW YORK - The National Black Network, the nation's only Black owned and Black controlled radio network has announced the formation of the National Black Network Wire Service. The service scheduled to begin March 1, 1975, will be headquartered in New York with bureaus planned for Chicago, Washington, D.C., Los Angeles and Atlanta. Utilizing the more than 100 stringers currently working for NBN, the Wire Service will receive reports from every major city in the U.S.A. National News Director, and acting head of the Wire Service, Vince Sanders, has predicted he will be coordinating hundreds of stories from the Black community each day.

The service, staffed by more than 25 professional journalists, will fill the needs of Black as well as general newspapers, magazines and television outlets for a prime Black news source. The Black press, in particular, will have the increased capability of publishing, not only stories generating from traditional sources, but stories collected and reported by Black journalists through the world. In addition to the fast-breaking news, the Wire Service expects to acquire investigative reports on recent events and purchase features on sports, Black culture, Black history, Black international datelines and Black business.

The National Black Network's radio division has been steadily expanding its basic news service from a five minute newscast on the hour 18 times a day to the present total of 135 newscasts a week. In addition, a 30 minute news forum program, "Black Issues & the Black Press" and a news commentary show, "One Black Man's Opinion" is now being aired. A Washington bureau will be opened by the end of the year.

Gene Jackson, President of the National Black Network, emphasized the excellent job the other wire services have performed and stated that NBN will be making special arrangements with national and international news services, and just as the National Black Network news is serving the very special needs of Black radio audiences throughout America, the National Black Network Wire Service will serve the needs of the millions of other Black Americans

Durham Man Will Head Program Services Unit

Frank Bright of Durham has been appointed chief of the program services section of the North Carolina Department of Correction's division of adult probation and parole.

Bright, 48, has been supervisor of division D of the department. Based in Durham, the division covers Durham, Orange, Alamance, Caswell, Rockingham, Person, Granville, Vance, Warren and Franklin counties. Hayden W. Glover Jr. of Henderson will become acting supervisor, effective Monday.

Bright will be responsible for existing programs and developing new programs in the following areas: prerelease and aftercare services; self-improvement centers; community involvement and volunteer services; mutual agreement programming; revocation alternatives; drug and alcohol counseling and education and probation collection officers, according to David L. Jones, secretary of corrections, and John G. Patseouras, director of adult probation and parole.

"We are proud," Jones said, "to place a department veteran, with 14 years of experience in the field of probation and over nine years of additional experience in law enforcement, in this important position. The program services that Bright's section will provide are essential to the rehabilitation program by which the department hopes to help the state's probationers and parolees successfully resume the responsibilities and privileges of citizenship in the community." His annual salary will be $18,780.

FRANK BRIGHT

Bright is a Richmond County native. Before joining the department in 1960, he was a member of the High Point Police Department. He is a graduate of A&T State University. He is married to the former Miss Veatrice Robinson of Mount Gil-lead. They have two children, Kenneth, 18, and Karen, 16, and will continue to live in Durham. Bright is a member of White Rock Baptist Church, where he is first vice chairman of the trustee board. He is on the board of directors of Tobacco-Kiwanis Club, the John Avery Boys Club and the Alcoholism Council. He also is a member of the executive committee of Region J of the Law Enforcement Assistance Association.

Life For College President's Wife

GREENSBORO, October 4 - With all the discussion of retrenchment and stringency in higher education, especially among the smaller private colleges, today's black college president finds himself faced with a twenty-four hour profession. His responsibilities include devising strategies for obtaining funds to supplement tuition; solving the problems of the entire college community; answering the questions and criticisms of his many publics; and making speeches and appearances across the country. While these appear to be his concerns, so often they become the burdens of his family, especially of his wife.

In a recent rap session with members of the Bennett College Debate Club, Mrs. Effie E. Miller, the wife of Dr. Isaac H. Miller, was asked about her role as a president's wife. "I find myself in a supportive role. I feel that I must be there if he wants to talk about his day at the office or if he doesn't. And usually he will not discuss campus affairs at home, although he will spend most of his spare time working on reports and other office work."

She admits that it was a big adjustment for their family in assuming this role.

"My husband was biochemist and professor at Meharry Medical College before he became president of Bennett. He was able to be with the children more and the atmosphere was more relaxed. Even though we both worked, we had more time to be together then. Now we live at such a fast pace and a demanding one."

Many women are critical of the role she plays in the home. However, Mrs. Miller who formerly taught in the Nashville, Tennessee school system, believes that each woman's liberation is measured by her own desires and needs.

"I adore the concept of women's liberation. For me it is the freedom to be my own kind of person. When my husband comes home from a hectic day at the office, I don't both him with the problems of home. Ordinarily, I can tell how his day has gone by his mood."

She added, "He can usually tell if something is

Hayes-Taylor Speaker, Congressman Preyer

GREENSBORO - On Saturday - October 19, 1974 the Board of Management and staff of the Hayes-Taylor branch Y.M.C.A. will present the 8th annual recognition and awards banquet.

The foundation for this agency, whose purpose is to contribute to the physical, mental and spiritual growth of our youth, was laid on February 18, 1932 by a small group of men who sought to establish a Christian organization. From this group of six young men blossomed the beginning of the young men's Christian Association for Negro men and boys in Greensboro. The activities at Hayes-Taylor have continued to grow at such a rapid pace that today we are in need of a new facility. None of this could have been accomplished without the time, interest and support of so many loyal people. This annual affair is our way of showing our appreciation to those who have enabled us to boast of 35 years of service by the Y to the citizens of Greensboro. This year Congressman L. Richardson Preyer of the 6th District of North Carolina will be guest speaker at the banquet which is to be held at the Cosmos Restaurant - 709 E. Market Street from 6:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. Reservations are $5.00 per person. The public is invited to attend.
