

THE TRIBUNAL AID WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1975 PRINCE HALL MASONIC CORNER

by: C. M. Winchester 33 Degree Major S. High 33 Degree

This week we salute Dr. Haywood N. Dowdy, 230 West 4th Street, Washington, North Carolina 27889. For many years Dr. Dowdy has assisted the Prince Hall Masons of North Carolina through their most recent period of growth and development.

G.I.G. Dr. Haywood N. Dowdy 33 Degree Grand Treasurer Prince Hall Grand Lodge of North Carolina

After completing his studies for the practice of Dentistry, Dr. Dowdy returned to his life-long hometown of Washington, set up office and entered fully into the community life of the City.

Dr. Dowdy has been awarded the Chi-Lambda-Kappa Key for outstanding service and has accepted membership in the Chi-Delta-Mu Fraternity. In addition to the above, Dr. Dowdy has served as Chairman of the Trustee Board of Metropolitan A.M.E. Zion Church; Sunday School Superintendent; Treasurer of the Church; member of the Board of Education for six years; Chairman of the Community Chest; and as Chairman of the Tuberculosis, Red Cross and United Way Campaigns.

During his tenure with The Grand Lodge as a member of the Finance Committee and now as Treasurer, Dr. Dowdy has given good sound advice to the North Carolina Prince Hall Grand Lodge. At present the Grand Lodge has assets of over Six Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Dr. Dowdy has a well-established dental practice in Washington, N. C.; however, he finds time to assist the North Carolina Prince Hall Masons in their effort to cultivate Brotherhood among themselves and financial security for their widows and orphans.

tion. His position requires him to maintain a list of the ten most pressing problems in the community as a guide to follow. Mr. Forney coordinates and produces programs such as "Gospel Expo", "Women and . . .", "Gallery" and "The Washington Report".

Mr. Forney comments that before coming to Channel 8, he had no prior education or experience in television broadcasting; but when he made his transition, it was easy to adapt because of the help he received from the staff. The only noteworthy adjustment he had to make was that instead of serving one or two people at a time, as was the case in his social work and probation officer activities, he now serves thousands of people within the 33 county outreach of Channel 8.

Mr. Forney likes his job at Channel 8 and goes on to say "I get a good feeling at the end of a day because I think that maybe I have helped someone, somewhere. My work is like that of a newspaper reporter in that we both need creativity. A reporter uses his creativity in forming a written story and I use mine to create a visual story."

Aside from the busy life as a Director of Community Affairs, Mr. Forney is active in Good Will Industries, the Guilford County Mayor Commission of Employment for the Handicapped, the local Chamber of Commerce, Childrens 100 Committee, Mid-West Business Development Corporation, and is on the Board of the High Point Y.M.C.A. and other various organizations.

The one thing Mr. Forney hopes to do someday is to "create an awareness for people to know and understand the problems of others."

Mr. Forney is married to the former Ruth Glaspie of Warsaw, N.C. They have one daughter, Yvette, who is 11 and will celebrate her 12th birthday on the 22nd of this month.

Don Forney -- a person well worth watching. For the better we know him, THE BETTER WE KNOW US.

was essentially unchanged at 2.9 million in September, after posting the first real decline in August since late 1973.

However, there was a continued increase in the number of persons unemployed 27 weeks and over, sometimes referred to as the hard-core unemployed; at 1.6 million, this was the highest level in the post-World War II period and constituted one-fifth of the jobless total. Offsetting this increase was a second straight monthly decline in the number of persons jobless 15-26 weeks. On an overall basis, the average period of joblessness continued to rise, and, at 16.2 weeks, mean duration was at its highest level since late 1961.

The number of unemployed who had lost their last job increased by 300,000 in September to 4.6 million, a return to the July level. Unemployment stemming from job loss had dropped by nearly 600,000 over the May-August period.

Total employment was about unchanged in September at 85.4 million, seasonally adjusted, after registering gains totaling about 1.5 million from the March low point to August. Employment remained about a million below its year-earlier peak level.

Similarly, the civilian labor force, at 93.2 million, was essentially the same as in August, following gains totaling 800,000 in the 2 previous months. Over the past year, the labor force has expanded by less than 1.4 million, with all of the increase limited to the last 7 months. In the 3 previous years, the labor force rose at a considerably faster pace, a million or more workers per year in excess of the current year's gain.

A RIDDLE IN RHYMES

by Rev. T. M. Walker

WHAT AM I?

I am professional in rendering my service, And often I'm given assignments. But there are times when I get nervous Because of certain job confinements.

My task on the field is a useful one, And that is why I often try To present to the public information or fun As facts to catch a reader's eye. WHAT AM I?

Some of my kind have areas quite small To cover and do their thing, While others travel far to cover all Of what they consider interesting.

On time I must send what facts I collect To a place where something like dye Spreads my collection to take effect On the minds of those who use the eye. WHAT AM I?

The tools I use while I'm on duty, Aside from mind, eye, and speech, Are pointed things, some of beauty Such as used when you teach.

Just as I find things, so I relate such; For it is honesty we all admire. And after I report what may not be much, I hope it's what readers require. WHAT AM I?

(The answer to last week's riddle is BOWLING BALL.)
