Republicans Open Campaign Offices

Republicans have opened ounty hendquarters for the fall campaign on the second floor of Investment building on West Market street, and a large banner advertising the fact has been placed in front of the bullding.

O. N.-Petree is in charge of the eadquarters, it was announced, and eadquarters is next door to the law office of Chairman Z. H. Howerton of the Republican county executive

Leaders of the G. O. P. in the ounty have announced that they plan a strenuous campaign this year, declaring that they consider this one of their best opportunities to win public office. They are particularly optimistic over prospects for electing a Republican sheriff because of reported disapproval among certain Democrats of their own candidate.

.R. E. Lowdermilk, who has made the race several times, is again the Republican nominee for sheriff and will make the race against John C. Story, former deputy sheriff, who won the Democratic nomination over Sheriff J. S. Phipps in a runoff.

No New Plates For Cars In 1943

Tabs To Be Placed On Old Tags To Be Issued

Rationing of gasoline and tires are not the only restrictions that will face motorists in 1943. Tales four inches square will be issued in place of new license plates, according to a statement issued by the Carolina Motor club, agent for distribution of state license plates in North Caro

License plates based for 1942 in North Carolina will be retained for 1943 but a tab, murked with gold letters and numerals on a black background, will be attached to the lower righthand corner of the rear

Applications for 1913 plates will be ent out only to the motorist who has a 1942 license, and in order to renew such license he will be required to turn in his 1942 pocket card with the new application. If the 1942 pocket card has been lost or is not legible a duplicate should be ob tained before December 1, when tabs will be available at all branches of the Carolina Motor club in North Carolina and at the department of revenue in Raleigh. Fees will be the same for 1943 that they were for

New Sugar Rule Goes Into Effect

Deadline for Ration Certificates Fixed

The state office of the OPA has advised local rationing officials that no sugar bertificate whether issued for home canning, industrial or comnercial purposes, will be negotiable after 60 days from date of issuance Instruction was also given that in event a board has allowed stamps or certificate to be negotiable after expiration the public should be informed that the ruling is effective immediately.

The communication also stated that in consideration of applications for renewal of home canning certificates boards should inquire, carefully into necessity for such renewal. Point is made that the peak of the cauning season has passed, and, therefore, no person has great need for sugar for this purpose if the applicant has not

Local rationing officials were also told in the communication what about handling cases in which sugar is left over from a home canning allotment.

In mich cases helders of ratio books may take them to local boards who will deduct stamps from the current rationing period in amount of sugar on hand, after which the sugar may be for general home use. If the sugar on hand exceeds the value of current stamps, the board will retain the book netil value of stamps for future rationing periods will exceed the amount of sugar held.

Step Up Program For Training of Nurses for Nation

Mrs. Mabel K. Staupers, Executive Secretary of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses, Inc., attended Monday's meeting as a member of the Subcommittee on Nuring of the Health and Medical Committee.

Measures taken by the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps to meet nursing shortages in Canada were described by Miss Elizabeth Smellie, Matron-in-Chief of the Corps, who is in Washington at the invitation the Army Nurse Corps. Wartime oursing practices in England explained by Miss Elizabeth Phillips, until recently Associate Chief Nurse of the American Red Cross, Harvard Field Hospital Unit, stationed in Salisbury, England.

So that an accelerated program may be arranged for nursing class starting this fall, the Committee on Educational Problems in Wartime of the National League of Nursing is requested to outline, by October 1, sugcested curricular for 24, 28 and 30month periods. For high school graduates the subcommittee recommends revising the 3-year curriculum so that organized education will be co pleted in 30 months and the last six onths devoted to supervised practice. For students with two to four of approved college preparation, the subcommittee proposes comssing the training period so that the student will be graduated in from 24 to 28 months depending on previous education and her accomplishnents in the school.

To promote wider use of auxillary workers, the Subcommittee recommends better classification of this type of work. It proposes that a joint committee, with power to act, representing the National Nursing Council for War Service and the Subcommittee on Nursing, be asked to outline the new classification. Factors to be considered are nomen clature, qualifications, salary, training and use. The joint cor mittee will be asked to have its plan of classification ready by October 1.
