Wilson And Mexico

While the United States is not yet wholly "out of the woods" so far as the establishment of peace and orderly government in Mexico are concerned, the events to date have been a complete vindication of the wisdom and effectiveness of President Wilson's Mexican policy. With a hot-head or demagogue in the Presidential office at Washington—from which misfortune the election of Wilson instead of Roosevelt saved the country—the United States undoubtedly would be now engaged in a bitter and costly war with the Mexican people instead of occupying the position of friend and counselor in their almost accomplished efforts to restore the constitutional government.

The resignation and flight of Huerta marked the inevitable collapse of the usurper's brief reign. It marked also the complete establishment of the new doctrine that usurpation is not to be recognized on this hemisphere. A constitutional government is to be established in Mexico. Peace at home and with the world, though they may not come to the long suffering Mexicans at once, are at hand. Only incredible folly upon the part of the Constitutionalists, against which they have been impressively warned by our government, can long delay the restoration of peace.

That the world has been impressed with the great moral victory achieved by President Wilson's policy is evidenced by the content of the European press on Huerta's down fall. On this hemisphere particularly, the invocation of mediation by American powers, as a means of arranging international differences in America, has immeasurably strengthened the confidence of Latin-America in the integrity of our purposes.

The Farmers of section would be pleased to see a good rain. Some crops are looking fine while others are not so good. The cotton is growing out where the hail cut it off.

Her kin folks and neighbors slipped a dinner on Mrs Munroe Lovelace the third Sunday on account of her birthday. Some of the neighbors had sent her word that they were going to spend the day with her. This was done in order to keep her at home. It was a surprise to the whole family when the wagons and buggies began to arrive laden with people and good things to eat. There had been no table prepared and the men folks looked around and got up some planks and made a large table in the grove. They then stepped back to see the ladies spread it on. The dinner consisted of cakes, chicken, ham and most everything else good to eat.

Some of those present were; W. G. H. Ware and family, H. T. Write and family, H. D. Canipe and family, J. R. Champ on one family, Elam McSwain and family, D. A. Bell and family, J. W. Bell and family, Tid Bell and family, John Watterson and family, R. S. Thornburg and family and a number of others. Everybody ate a satisfying and left enough to have re-

TAKING CALOMEL IS DANGEROUS

Calomel is a powerful chemical made from mercury—people should be careful about its use. The only sure way to avoid the danger of calomel is to take no calomel.

Dodson's Liver Tone, a vegetable liquid of pleasant taste, more than takes its place. Where calomel shakes you up and checks your liver and often makes you really sick, Dodson's Liver tone, mild but effective, builds up and strengthens. It "liven up the liver." You feel fine after taking it. Dodson's may be taken without any restrictions of diet or habits. You can give it to your children with fine results.

Get a large bottle for 50 cents at Mauney Drug Co. and if it doesn't do all that you think it ought—if it doesn't make bilious spells mere trifles—if it doesn't "liven up your liver," your money will be waiting for you and be returned with a smile.
