Of INTEREST to WOMEN

PHONES 10-R AND 88 MRS. A. H. PATTERSON, Editor

AUXILIARY MEETS

April meeting of the Olla B. Green Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. James Ware on the 27th with Mrs. Lloyd Phifer as joint hostess.

A large number of members were present and all seemed to thoroughly enjoy their visit to the country.

Plans were made for the annual Poppy Day Sale. Mrs. L. D. Shuford was made chairman of the committee on Poppy Sales.

After the business session, Mrs. Virginia Ware gave a humorous reading.

The hostesses were assisted in serving a delicious sweet course by Misses Pauline and Virginia Ware.

ENTERTAINS WITH BRIDGE

Mrs. Lawrence Lovell most delightfully entertained at five tables of bridge on last Wednesday evening, at her home on Railroad avenue.

Lavish decorations of snapdragons, roses, iris and other flowers made the rooms most attractive and inviting.

A tempting menu consisting of pressed chicken, sandwiches, pickle hot rolls, coffee and heavenly hash short-cake was served.

The guests included Mesdames Joe Thomson, Grady King, Percy Dilling, F. E. Finger, J. L. McGill, W. T. Weir, Harold Crawford, W. K. Crook, Hugh Ormand, M. H. Biser, Carl Mauney, Hunter Neisler, Hayne Blackmer, George Moss, Fred Plonk, Misses Mary McGill, Paulella Adair, Sara Kate Ormand, Jette Plonk and Sara Allison.

MISSION STUDY HELD

The Woman's Missionary Society of Saint Matthews Lutheran Church held a mission study class on Tuesday, May 3rd, at the beautiful and spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Mauney. The home with its lovely bowls of colorful flowers presented a beautiful picture.

The local ladies were joined by the Lutheran women of the Shelby and Bessemer City churches.

After devotions, Rev. L. Boyd Hamm, presented Mrs. Davis, the capable and efficient wife of the pastor at Shelby who taught the book, "Mecca and Beyond" by Edward M. and Rose W. Dodd.

Mrs. Davis gave the study in a very interesting manner. Others aided by songs, scripture readings and poems.

At noon a delicious luncheon was served.

In the afternoon Rev. Davis joined Mrs. Davis in stating facts from the book.

The program was concluded with prayer by Rev. McClanahan from Bessemer City.

ROOK PARTY
