CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all those who were so kind to us during our bereavement. We especially thank those who sent beautiful floral designs. May God bless you all. The Family of Cecil and N. J. Furtick.

Series Of Meetings At Wesleyan Church

Rev. J. R. George, of Greer, S. C., known as "Happy Jim", will begin a meeting at the Wesleyan Methodist Church next Sunday at eleven o'clock. Rev. George is a man of great faith, as well as a good preacher. He wears a big smile for everyone, and preaches a simple Gospel, like all great preachers do.

SerVICES each evening next week at 7:30 o'clock. This is an invitation to everybody.

Rev. A. F. Connor, Pastor

Explains Penalty For Exceeding AAA Quota

The penalties for growers who exceed their cotton and tobacco allotments in 1938 have been explained by E. Y. Floyd, AAA executive officer at State College.

A grower's cotton marketing quota is all the cotton he can grow on his allotted acreage.

If he plants more than his allotment, there will be a penalty of two cents a pound on all cotton sold in excess of his quota.

In addition, he will forfeit all payments that he would otherwise have been entitled to under the agricultural conservation program. He will lose his cotton price adjustment payment on the 1937 crop, and the loan he can get on his 1938 crop will be limited to 60 per cent of the amount he could have gotten if he had not exceeded his quota.

Tobacco growers are given an acreage allotment and a poundage quota.

If tobacco is planted in excess of the allotment, deductions from the grower's agricultural conservation payment will be made at the rate of ten cents a pound on the average production of the excess acreage.

Tobacco sold in excess of the poundage quota is subject to a penalty of one-half the gross value of the leaf or three cents a pound, whichever is greater.

If a grower keeps within his acreage allotment, but produces more than his poundage quota, he will still have to pay the penalty if he sells more than his quota.

Farm Questions Answered

Q.—What are the requirements of a well-planned home wiring system?

A.—Those farm families having power lines run into their homes for the first time should see that the wiring system provides for comfortable lighting conveniently located switches and a sufficient number of well placed service outlets adequately wired and correctly fused. Extension Circular No. 213 "Wiring and Lighting the Farm Home" may be obtained free from the Agricultural Editor at State College.
