

More About Cyrus Falls S. S. Record

Falls said the strangest he ever attended was the army class during 1917-18. With Bible classes decidedly unique, one of any kind was likely to be considerably different from the regular home group.

"We met in Red Cross and YMCA huts, or in any other place we could find, and in the class were boys and men of every nationality and faith—Jew, Greek, Catholic, Assyrian, Gentile—but we enjoyed it."

During these 25 years Cyrus Falls has never been too ill to attend, though about three years ago he had to call a doctor on a Sunday afternoon. During this quarter century, he has seen the arrival of well-mechanized automobiles, passable roads, and other important transportation facilities.

"Horse and buggy nothing," he grinned, "I had to walk, and some of those days were pretty bad—slush, rain, and mud. In 1913, the snow then, and there weren't more than twelve or thirteen in the class. During that same winter, when I was home on a 90-day furlough, our church was quarantined, and I had to go to Mooreboro one Sunday and 'El Bethel the next.'"

"What one lesson stands out as being the best you've ever heard?" he was questioned.

"That's putting me pretty much on the spot, but I guess the best one I ever heard was in Washington, also one of the prettiest churches I have ever seen. I don't remember the man's name, but he was a Senator from some Western state, and really put it over."

When asked what she thought of her husband's record, Mrs. Falls said that "Sunday School must help him be a pretty good husband." He sees that I go too, and when Tommy was little, we used to leave him in a basket outside. Why, sometimes, he goes twice on a Sunday, since the church close by sometimes has its services in the afternoon."

Through 2½ miles of mud, slush and rain, during trips, in spite of car trouble, and "not feeling too well," Cyrus Falls has attended a Bible class for 1500 Sundays, and he says "I just went; it was nothing unusual."

"You know, with my talking about these many years, folks will think I'm an old buck sure enough, but I'm still on the sunny side of 40. You ask though, what 25 years regular attendance at Sunday School has meant to me. It's hard to say, but it has been worth a great deal in experience and priceless schooling. I recommend to any one that he attend Sunday School, and attend it regularly."

Success In Making Jelly No Accident

Making clear, sparkling bright, firm jelly is not just a matter of cooking fruit juice with sugar and trusting to luck, according to home demonstration specialists of the State College Extension Service.

Fine jelly is not so easy to make, as many a housewife can testify after turning out a batch of gummy or curdled stuff that refused to jell, or perhaps was tough, gummy, dull colored, and with out flavor. "Lots of sad things can happen, as 'any jelly-maker knows,'" said Miss Sallie Brooks, assistant extension nutritionist.

A wide, shallow, flat-bottomed kettle is best for cooking the sugar and fruit juices for making jelly. Such a kettle permits rapid evaporation and brings the mixture to the jelling point without the long cooking that spoils the color and flavor.

A cup of sugar for each cup of fruit juice is often used, but sometimes it is best to have a little more kind of juice used. Too much water or excessive fruit moisture will keep the product from attaining the firm quality desired for marketing or for home consumption.

SAVINGS . . .

AND CONFIDENCE

It is our privilege to know many savers—young and old, men, women and children.

Somehow, it seems that as a group, they have a little more confidence than other people. Perhaps this comes from knowing that they can take advantage of any opportunities that may arise requiring cash. Perhaps they feel less anxiety because they know they are prepared for unforeseen trouble.

Or perhaps it's just because they see their way clear to the goal they have set—Whatever the reason, wouldn't you like to join them in saving here?
