

Drive For Scouts To Be Made Next Week

A campaign to raise Kings Mountain District's part of the Piedmont Council Budget of $15,000 will be made next week according to B. S. Neill, chairman of the Finance Committee. Other members of this committee are B. S. Peeler, Ladd Hamrick, Joe H. Thomson and L. Arnold Kiser.

Last year during the annual drive $550 was raised and paid in to the fund. This year the amount to be asked has been increased. The council estimates that the cost per Boy Scout is $5.00 and according to records at the close of 1938 there were 158 Boy Scouts registered in Kings Mountain. This cost is lower than that of other councils. The national average is about $6.00 per boy.

Scouting is taking on new life in our community and the local leaders expect a good response to the call to contribute to this organization which is doing so much in training boys for citizenship.

Another reason which the Piedmont Council gives for an increase in our contribution is to help in the building of the permanent Headquarters building now under construction in Gastonia. This building will

There are eight Troops of Boy Scouts in Kings Mountain and the majority of them are sponsored by our Churches. Boys between 12 and 18 years of age are eligible for membership and in addition to asking for your financial support, you are asked to give the Scout movement in your neighborhood and in your Church every encouragement by your interest and in encouraging boys to be Scouts.

President Roosevelt has this to say about Boy Scouts: "The Boy Scout movement represents a new era of moral force in America. Its further growth will depend upon the realization of our manhood that it must assume the responsibility of leadership, as Washington and Lincoln accepted that responsibility for our forefathers. It will depend upon the generosity, the willingness and enthusiasm of American leaders to guide the millions of American Boys by the ways that are full of the best joys in life to the goal of health, happiness, loyalty and reverence."

Governor Clyde R. Hoey of North Carolina makes this statement: "The Boy Scouts of America stand alone in the service rendered the youth of this land. Too much emphasis can not be placed upon the training of boys, the instilling of high ideals, the maintaining of standards of honor and the cultivation of a spirit of helpfulness among each other. I salute this splendid organization and bespeak for all those who labor in it and with it a full measure of happiness in the accomplishment of worthwhile work."

Your interest and support in this work in behalf of boys is being asked and Local Scout Leaders have reason to believe our people will respond in a very liberal way.

Mrs. Von Heavener Buried At Oak Grove

Funeral services for Mrs. Von Heavener were held at Oak Grove Baptist church Wednesday at 2:30 with Rev. Luther Hawkins in charge assisted by Rev. Elam McSwain. Mrs. Heavener had been a member of this church since early girlhood. She would have been 39 years of age April 1. Her death occurred Tuesday morning at the Lincoln Hospital after a long illness. She was a devoted wife and mother and numbered her friends by the score. She bore a lovely disposition and had a kind word for all those she came in contact with.

Before marriage she was Miss Nancy Moore, daughter of the late John P. Moore and Mrs. Moore, of this community. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Margie, J. B. James, Mary, Gladys; Vivian Lester and Bobby and her mother, Mrs. John P. Moore and the following brothers and sisters: Tom Moore of Shelby; Messrs Gardner, Plato Samuel, John and Boyce, of this community; Mrs. Carrie Sellers of Lincoln; Mrs. Mattie Neal and Mrs. Martha Green, of this section. The floral offering attested the esteem in which she was held. Friends of the family served as flower girls and pallbearers.

BABY NLRB'S WOULD RULE GROCER, BAKER

Washington, Feb. 21.—(IPS).—It may soon be illegal in some states for the village grocerman, the drugist or the baker to talk to an employee about some things.

For instance, it would be an "unfair labor practice" in the eyes of the proposed law, if the merchant expressed to an employee an opinion concerning the merits of the labor union or another.

Likewise, if the employee asked his boss for advice on the question of joining a particular union, it would be "coercion" if the employer frankly told the employee he doubted if the union could benefit him (the employee).

In Washington a Federal agency, the National Labor Relations Board, has been administering a Federal law along those lines for more than three years. It, however, affects only employers engaged in interstate commerce.

Now there is a plan afoot to establish little labor boards in States to put the small employers (any employer with one or more persons on his payroll) under similar laws. Labor organizers have drafted such a bill and it has the backing of many officials in Washington. It is being pressed for adoption in the State legislatures. Already a half dozen states have the bill on their legislative calendars.

The measure is modeled after the Federal law over which public indignation has already started an amendment fight in the National Capitol.

AERIAL PHOTOS OFFER ACCURATE FARM RECORD

With the advent of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and the need for accurate field measurements to check compliance with the soil conservation program, aerial photography came into its own as a cheap, quick, indispensable method of land mapping.
E. Y. Floyd, AAA executive officer at State College, says these aerial photographs are proving valuable to farmers in planning the lay-out of their fields. Others frame them to hang on the wall. Accurate field measurement is important under the AAA because conservation payments are made at a specified rate per acre of land planted. Prior to the use of aerial photography, a number of methods, ranging from the old measuring wheel to surveying, were used.

"Cost of checking performance from the air is about one-third less than the earlier methods of land measurement," Floyd reported. "Aerial photography costs about 4 cents per acre as compared with 6 cents per acre under older measuring methods. The cost is included as part of the administrative expense deducted from payments to farmers."
Photographs constitute a permanent record and need not be retaken unless boundaries are greatly altered. Minor changes can be drawn in on the print. Enlarged to a specified scale, the prints serve as a map as well as a picture. Enlargement brings into focus the outlines of such landmarks as fences, highways, streams, buildings, woodlands and trees.

Last Word in Convenience

The desire to make a car reflect its owner's individuality is a potent factor in the average motorist's choice of accessory equipment. And it would be hard to find a more thoroughly "personalized" car than this new Chevrolet in which Mary Pickford is shown applying a touch of makeup. As if the highly illuminated vanity mirror were not enough, the car has a special kit of Miss Pickford's own famous beauty aids, now on the market under her name. The container, holding lipstick, rouge, powder and cream, folds neatly up into the glove compartment when not in use. Inset shows close-up of vanity case.
