TOM AND GEORGE
George: "A youngster told us yesterday that ants could lift fifty times their own weight; do you suppose, George, that they can?" Tom: "Sure that's easy; the other day I saw a hornet 'lift' my brother." These are strength to this statement: you can fool some of the people all the time and all of them some of the time; We "fool" them all the time, by giving them only a square deal.

FERTILIZER IN RIGHT SPOT BOOSTS YIELDS

Yields are usually bigger crops earlier and quality better if fertilizer is placed in two-inch bands to the side of the row and approximately on the level with the seed or seedling roots instead of being broadcast or placed below or too far from the row says C. B. Williams head of the State College Agronomy Department.
When fertilizer in large amounts is placed under above or around the seed or seedling at the time of planting early injury will occur under certain moisture conditions he added.
City the results of field tests by the State College Experiment Station Prof. Williams said fertilizer to the side of the row—instead of mixed in the row — gave average acre increases of 104 pounds of seed cotton 29 bushels of potatoes; and 165 lbs of tobacco. In comparison with plots where fertilizer was in bands one inch under the seed or seedling roots, side placements increased yields of seed cotton 253 pounds per acre, potatoes 38 bushels per acre, and tobacco 151 pounds per acre.

At this time of the year, when many farmers are applying fertilizer, it is wise for them to heed the results of fertilizer-placement tests conducted by other farmers, under the supervision of the Experiment Station, the agronomist stated.

"We recommend that the nearer fertilizer can be placed to the seed—without injury to germination—the more effective it is, but if applications are moderately heavy to heavy, it is safest to put the fertilizer in bands along both sides of the seed and at a depth varying with the crop," Prof. Williams concluded.

APPRECIATION
I wish to take this means of thanking all my friends who voted for and supported me during the recent election.
I congratulate my opponent, neighbor and friend, J. B. Thomasson, and my best wishes are extended to him.

Patterson Grove Section

We are glad to hear the farmers are getting their crops planted and to know some have corn and cotton coming up.
Sorry to hear about so much sickness and deaths in the last few weeks.

Miss Alice Burton is a patient in the City Hospital, Gastonia, following an appendix operation last week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Burton. Her friends are hoping she will be O. K. and back home soon.

Mr. John Burton was buried Saturday at Patterson Grove. He left a large family of children. His wife has been dead over three years.

Mrs. W. S. Patterson, Ruthie Lee and Eldred were dinner guests of the John Carrolls Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hancock and children were visitors of Mr. James Curroll near Blacksburg Sunday evening.

Mr. Jesse Lee Caldwell of Bostic was a visitor in Kings Mountain for a few days.

Patterson Grove school closed Friday.

As a good friend of Alice Burton I am trying to write the news for her this week, hoping she will be home soon.
