McCHESNEY-STALLWORTH MARRIAGE SOLMNIZED IN WOODRUFF, S. C.

The marriage of Miss Claudia Townsend McChesney and Fred Rush Stallworth was solemnized Wednesday evening, June 14, in Woodruff, S. C., at the Presbyterian church with the bride's father, Rev. P. S. McChesney, pastor of the church, performing the ceremony.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was given by Miss Margaret Weeks, organist; Miss Mary McChesney and H. B. Kilgore, vocalists.

Miss Weeks played "Ave Maria" by Schubert, "Andante Cantabile" from the Fifth Symphony of Tschakowsky and "Liebestraum" by Liszt during the ceremony.

Miss Weeks sang "Life" by Curran and "Stars of the Night Sing Softly," Edwards, and Mr. Kilgore sang "Calm as the Night," Bohm, and "O Perfect Love, Barnby." The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was used as a professional and Mendelssohn's wedding march as the recessional.

Paul McChesney, Jr., brother of the bride and Samuel Kilgore acted as ushers. Other ushers were Hugh McChesney, brother of the bride, and Henry Workman, Jr. The groomsmen were Jimmie Stallworth brother of the bridegroom, and Henry Belk Simpson of Greenville.

The bridesmaids Miss Mary McChesney and Miss Kate McChesney sisters of the bride, wore white frocks of chiffon made Princess Engle style and carried arm bouquets of white gladioli tied with blue tulle.

Miss Florence Moffatt, of Richmond, Va., was maid of honor and was gowned in white chiffon also, made on similar lines to those of the bridesmaids, and carried white gladioli tied with yellow tulle. The bride entered on the arm of her eldest brother, Samuel McChesney of Augustus, Ga., who gave her away, and Mr. Stallworth had as his best man, his uncle, Ernest Stallworth of Paeolet.

The bride was never more lovely than in her wedding dress of ivory satin made on classic lines designed with Queen Elizabeth collar and long fitted sleeves fitted at the wrists. Her long veil of illusion extended the length of her train and the short over-the-face veil was caught to the head with a tara of seed pearl. Her flowers were of bride's roses showered with lilies of the valley.

The bride's mother, Mrs. P. S. McChesney, wore a Catalina blue lace dress with corsage of sweetheart roses, and Mrs. F. K. Stallworth's mother of the bridegroom, costume was of black lace with corsage of red roses.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party, out of town guests and a number of close friends and relatives were entertained at a lovely reception at "Kilbirnie," the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kilgore, cousins of Mr. Stallworth.

The bride is one of Woodruff's most charming young women and has been popular in social and religious circles. She is a graduate of the Woodruff high school and Queen Chicora college of Charlotte, N. C., where she was a member of the Alpha Kappa Gamma leadership sorority. Since graduation she has been a member of the local grammar school faculty.

Mr. Stallworth is a native of Woodruff, S. C., the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Stallworth of West Georgia street, and the grandson of the late A. V. Stallworth, prominent educator and Mrs. A. V. Stallworth. He is a graduate of the Woodruff schools and the Presbyterian college at Clinton, where his fraternity was Pi Kappa Phi. He is now a popular young business man of Kings Mountain, where he is manager of the Belk

Simpson store. Mr. and Mrs. Stallworth left for their wedding trip, and upon their return will make their home at 171 King street, Kings Mountain.

For traveling the bride wore a handsome model of gray crepe with matching eyelet lace jacket with accessories of black and Asia pink, her corsage being of radiance roses.

The bride's parents, the Rev. P. S. McChesney and Mrs. McChesney entertained at a buffet supper following the rehearsal Tuesday evening, the guests being members of the bridal party and a few close friends and relatives.

Among those attending the wedding from Kings Mountain were: Rev. and Mrs. P. D. Patrick, Mrs. Luther Ware, Misses Elizabeth and Annie Mae Ware, Mr. Franklin Ware and the entire staff of Belk's Department Store.

ATTENDS WEDDING IN GEORGIA

Miss Dolores McDaniel left this week for Chocomauga, Ga., where she is to be a bridesmaid at the wedding of Miss Barbara Wheeler with whom she roomed and was associated as teacher in the Charlotte schools. Miss Wheeler is a kinswoman of the late Mrs. J. L. McKay Mountain.

RECENT BRIDE HONORED

Mrs. John Phil Wilson, nee Miss Nancy Hord, was the inspiration of a lovely party at which Miss Sara Hambricht was hostess on Wednesday afternoon.

Gladioli and other summer flowers were effectively arranged throughout the rooms.

Bridge and Chinese Checkers provided amusement. Mrs. Carlyle Isley of Burlington scored high in bridge and Mrs. C. D. Ware in Chinese checkers, each receiving attractive trophies. Mrs. Wilson was presented a lovely gift.
