Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

I RECKON it's been mentioned before that women are peculiar. It's even been noticed that they have a funny way of making things miserable for other women. Another thing, though, you know no woman ever wants to wear anything that's exactly like anything that any other woman wears. It might be a little bit like, but it can't be just the same. Almost every husband knows how something has got to be done about it if the wife sees another woman with a hat like hers.

Well, there was two families that was great friends, in Chicago. One day Jones come home, and his wife was feeling terrible.

"That new hat I got is no good," she says. "Mrs. Smith has got one exactly like it."

"That's too bad. You'll have to get another one."
But that didn't satisfy the wife at all. She felt terrible all evening.

Next day when Jones come home from work, his wife was singing all around the house.

"Did you get you a new hat?" says Jones.

"No, not yet. Tomorrow will do all right for that. But I fixed Mrs. Smith, all right. I ain't unhappy about it any more."

"How's that? You ain't gone and bawled her out, have you?"
"Not a bit. That's a man's way of doing. What's the use bawling her out and making her sore at us? No, I just give my new hat to Mrs. Smith's cook."

Hawk Haven Airport Completed By Mr. Hunnicutt

Kings Mountain, the best town in the State, takes another step in her progress with the announcement by Harold Hunnicutt, local aviation enthusiast, that he has completed his airport, the first completely outfitted airport in the history of Kings Mountain. The new airport, named Hawk Haven, is located about three miles southwest of Kings Mountain on the old Grover road, and is complete with hangar.

Mr. Hunnicutt, who keeps his Waco at Hawk Haven, drove the Herald reporter over the 1500 foot runway, and explained his plans to add another to this. The present 1500 feet clearance, one of the best small airport runways in this section, has a 500 foot clearance at the upper end, making a possible 2000 foot runway to be used in emergencies.

Several visiting pilots from over the two Carolinas have remarked that Hawk Haven is one of the most open fields in this section, with no obstruction to make landing or taking off a hazard. The present runway, which runs East and West, when supplemented by the one Mr. Hunnicutt plans to run in a North-South direction will catch all prevailing winds. It is approximately 150 feet wide, and flyers report, is easily spotted from above.

Hawk Haven is prepared to handle air shows, with ample parking space for spectators. An instructor has already been using the airport as the headquarters for a flying school.

Mr. Hunnicutt is a pilot himself, already having received his solo license, and needing only a few more flying hours for his private license. He invites all persons interested in aviation to visit Hawk Haven.

W. K. Mauney Offers Endowment To Lenoir-Rhyne College

W. K. Mauney, prominent local Church and Civic leader, and Mrs. Mauney have offered to Lenoir-Rhyne College, where Mr. Mauney is a member of the board of Trustees, an endowment of $25,000, according to an announcement made at the College Monday, during Alumni Day activities.

The yearly endowment contribution of the Mauneys to the college will be $2,500 for the next ten years at the end of which time the endowment payment will be completed. Interest from the fund is to be used for student scholarships, according to Mr. Mauney.

Mr. Mauney, who is a prominent Lutheran Church leader, and a member of the town council, also announced that he is donating $1000 toward the erection of a new church on the Campus at Lenoir-Rhyne. He announced that a group of about 50 interested persons were considering the construction of a new church.

Mr. Mauney was one of the principal speakers, along with Joe Moretz of Hickory, at a luncheon of the graduates Monday. Several hundred alumni participated in the day's activities.

Washington Snapshots by JAMES PRESTON

(Opinions Expressed in This Column Are Not Necessarily the Views of This Newspaper.)

If there ever was an object lesson for the American people, the world crisis and Washington's plans for building up the nation's defenses offer one.

Fifty thousand airplanes, an army equipped with streamlined fighting material, a navy second to none — these are the goal. Americans don't like war and don't like to spend money for it, especially money they haven't got. But all are agreed that the defense machine must be repaired.

The significant thing is that there is only one way to turn for the repair material. That is to American industry. Industry which has been under attack off and on for years now; industry which is still operating under new and unprecedented controls.

The Army and Navy may have the (Cont'd on Editorial page)

Red Cross Contribution Goes Over The Top

Citizens of Kings Mountain, not only marched to the polls Saturday and voted for their favorite candidates, but they also marched to the Red Cross booths and voluntarily contributed to the fund to relieve suffering in the war areas of Europe. The quota of $400 was oversubscribed by generous citizens, in the one day drive for funds. A total of $421.75 was donated and Mrs. Price Ratterree, Chapter Treasurer, has already mailed a check to national headquarters of the American Red Cross in Washington.

Red Cross Officials, who promoted the one-day free-will offering drive were extremely happy that Kings Mountain citizens over contributed the quota without the necessity of having to make a house-to-house canvass.

Appreciation Expressed For Response To Red Cross Relief Call

Ladd Hamrick, Chairman of the local Chapter of the American Red Cross, issued the following thanks to everyone for the part they played in the successful drive:

"The Local Red Cross Chapter leaders are grateful for the hearty and willing response you people of Kings Mountain made to the call for help for the innocent sufferers in Europe's War. Our quota given to us from National Headquarters was $400. We gladly accepted that quota and told you about it. Plans were made to get this without any personal solicitation by canvassing. You people of Kings Mountain came to the Booths and contributed $421.75 in one day. That shows that you willingly gave. As Chairman of the Local Chapter I am taking this means of expressing to you our appreciation for your response.

"If there is another appeal it will be because there is real need and we have confidence in our people's response. To every one who had any part in the work and in making contributions we express our appreciation."

L. W. Hamrick, Chairman
Kings Mountain Chapter American Red Cross.

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

Not in a Taking Way By IRVIN S. COBB

AN ELDERLY gentleman of Celtic antecedents didn't feel just right, he decided that possibly something was wrong with him. He went to a physician and described his symptoms.

"How many drinks do you take in the course of a day?" inquired the practitioner.

"Oh, maybe eighteen or twenty, sometimes more, sometimes less. Generally more — if I kin git them."
"How many cigars?"
"Oh, maybe ten or fifteen, and a few pipes full of tobacco before goin' to bed."
"Well, what time do you go to bed?"
"Niver before two o'clock in the mornin'."
"What you need is something else. You will cut out drinking entirely. Smoke one cigar after each meal and a pipe before you go to bed. And be in bed by nine o'clock every night."
Without a word the patient arose, reached for his hat and started to leave the room.
"By the way, haven't you forgotten something?" asked the medical man.
"I think not. I didn't bring me umbrella wid me. What wud I be forgetting?"
"Payment for my advice."
"I ain't going to take your ——— advice."
