A number of parties have been given in her honor in Charlotte, where she has lived for sometime.

Covers were laid for seventeen friends of Miss Wolfe.

TURNER-PAYNE WEDDING

A wedding marked by beauty and charming simplicity was solemnized Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Central Methodist Church of Kings Mountain when Miss Jennie Payne became the bride of Howard Turner of Gastonia.

Dr. Henry C. Sprinkle, Jr., pastor of the bride, officiated, using the impressive double ring ceremony.

The church decorations were in green and white, with tall white taper candles in seven branched candelabra before a background of palms and ferns. Floor baskets filled with handsome white roses, peonies and deutzia completed the scene.

A program of wedding music was rendered by Dr. Dorothy Norman of Gastonia.

The candles were lighted by Tom and Otto Payne, brothers of the bride. Dr. Norman played the traditional wedding marches using the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, by Wagner, as a processional. To A Wild Rose was rendered softly during the ceremony. For the recessional Mendelssohn's Midsummer Night's Dream, was used.

The young couple approached the altar unattended.

The bride was gowned in an ensemble of white and blue shark skin with white accessories. Her flowers were bride's roses showered with lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Turner is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Payne and a granddaughter of Thomas Lee Payne, Gaston county pioneer settler. She received her education in Florence Stephenson Hall, Asheville, and Limestone College, Gaffney, S. C., and is a graduate of the Norfolk General Hospital School of Nursing, Norfolk, Va. For the past year she has held a position in the Norman Clinic, Gastonia. She is a young woman of exceptional charm and high intellectual ability.

Mr. Turner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Turner of Charlotte. He attended Charlotte High School and the University of New York. He holds a responsible position with WGNC broadcasting station in Gastonia.

Upon their return from a wedding trip they will be at home at 207 East Third avenue, having taken an apartment with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Peoples in Gastonia.
