PHONES 10-R AND 88 MRS. A. H. PATTERSON,

HOYLE-MOSS WEDDING SOLEMNIZED SATURDAY EVENING

In a ceremony of beauty and dignity, Miss Mildred Moss became the bride of George Lewis Hoyle, Jr., at the Presbyterian Church on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, with the Rev. P. D. Patrick, pastor of the bride, officiating.

Evergreens and palms were arranged in the altar forming an effective background for the baskets of double fever few and Madonna lilies. Cathedral tapers in seven-branched candelabra completed a beautiful setting for the impressive ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by William Lee MacIlwain of Fayetteville, organist, and Mrs. Paul M. Neisler, of Kings Mountain, sister of the bride, soloist. Mrs. Neisler was gowned in Nile green chiffon and wore a corsage of pink roses. She sang "Still Wie Die Wach," by Carl Bohm, and at the conclusion of the ceremony, she sang as an impressive benediction, "O Perfect Love," by Mendelssohn. Mr. MacIlwain played "Agnus Dei" by George Bizet and "Estrellita," by M. M. Ponce.

The traditional Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, by Wagner, was used as a processional and the Wedding March from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night Dream," was played as a recessional. During the ceremony, Mr. MacIlwain played softly "First Movement," from A. Rubenstein's "Kamerio Ostrow."

The ushers were George Moss, brother of the bride, Paul Neisler, Jr., nephew of the bride, both of Kings Mountain; Charles Wells, Jr., of Shelby, cousin of the bridegroom, and J. L. Suttle, Jr., also of Shelby.

The dresses of the bridesmaids, matron-of-honor and maid-of-honor were fashioned similarly with quaint full skirt and short puffed sleeves.

The bride entered with her brother, Nicholas Moss, who gave her in marriage. She was exquisitely lovely in her wedding gown of white net with trimming of narrow lace and posed over taffeta. The gown was fashioned with sweetheart neck line and puffed sleeve, with gauntlets extending to the waist. The fitted bodice had back closing with tiny satin covered buttons. The full skirt ended in a graceful train. The veil of bridal illusion was bordered with Brussels lace and fell the full length of train. It was worn with coronet covered with seed pearls and tiny orange blossoms. Her flowers were bridal roses, showered with valley lilies.
