T. B. Clinic To Be Held

The Cleveland County Health Department will hold its annual Tuberculosis Clinic in July. Persons interested in whether they have the Tuberculosis germ in their body are urged to take the Tubercular test either from their family physician or from the County Health Department Clinic held every Friday P. M. of each week in the City Hall in the Red Cross Office.

If your test shows you have the Tuberculosis germs in your body, you will be advised of next steps to be taken.

Teachers, nurses, food handlers and industrial workers are especially urged to take the test and certainly anyone who is or has been in contact with an active case of Tuberculosis.

Persons interested should take this test prior to the clinic to be held in second week of July.

Traffic Hazards In Vacation Season

"Scores of North Carolinians now looking forward to a vacation period of rest and peace this summer will 'Rest in Peace' when the vacation season comes to a close."

Ronald Hocutt, director of the Highway Safety Division, made this dire prediction in speaking of what apparently is going to happen on North Carolina streets and highways this summer.

"I dislike being a pessimist and viewing with alarm," he said, "but unless the current upward trend in traffic accidents is unexpectedly checked, we may expect to see around 300 persons killed in traffic accidents in the state from Memorial Day (May 30) to Labor Day (September 1)."

There were 208 traffic fatalities in the state last summer, 62 in June, 64 in July, and 82 in August, he pointed out. The toll this year, however, is running around 50 per cent above that of last year.

"It is horrible to contemplate," he said, "that three hundred North Carolinians who are living today will die between now and summer's end as a result of the careless, reckless and thoughtless actions of their fellow citizens."

"I earnestly appeal to drivers, pedestrians, bicyclists and all others who travel upon our streets and highways to be on their guard in traffic this summer as never before. Vacationists must not be in too big a hurry, must not drink and drive, and must put their minds on what they are doing at all times when in traffic."

Unless these things are done, many people in our state this summer will go on a vacation that will last for eternity.

Tomato Producers See Better Prices

The 50 percent increase in production of tomatoes for canning to meet a larger domestic and Allied demand should bring growers a boost of from $2.75 to $3 a ton over 1940 contract prices, says H. R. Niswonger, extension horticulturist of N. C. State College.

On this basis, the average price to growers as a whole would be $14.50 to $14.75 a ton, the highest since 1930, he continued. In making this estimate, the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics used as a basis the relationship of prices paid and acreage planted for the years 1933-40, inclusive, with an additional allowance for expected changes in production costs in some areas during 1941.

Naturally, Niswonger went on, there will be considerable variation among states. In the past, prices have varied as much as $4 to $5 a ton. But now all tomato growers have their best opportunity in years to make money.

To make it possible for canners to take immediate steps to secure the increase in tomato acreage, the Federal Surplus Marketing Administration proposes to ask canners to submit offers at once to deliver canned tomatoes after the new pack has been completed.

The SMA, in considering bids, will make allowance for increases of from $2.75 to $3 a ton over 1940 contract prices to growers. It is expected that the price increase will apply to the entire contracted production of all growers who cooperate in furnishing the increased quantities desired.

The Government cannot guarantee that additional contracts will be offered at a higher price, but it is pointed out that conditions will be favorable for farmers to make a good bargain.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts
The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or over-exercised, your stomach often pours out the mucus fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel very sick and need all sorts of doctors or never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes some little black tablets called Ball-Care for indigestion to make the stomach digest better, relieve distress in no time and put you back on your feet. Ball-Care is so quick it is amazing and one 25 cent package proves it. Ask for Ball-Care for indigestion.

Housewives Begin Blanket Storage

The arrival of warm weather means putting away those blankets which will not be needed again until next fall, says Miss Pauline Gordon, extension home management and house furnishing specialist of N. C. State College.

A warm spring day when the sun is shining and a light wind blowing is an excellent time to wash out the soil of winter and store blankets out of the reach of moths.

Miss Gordon explained that the warmth of a blanket depends upon a soft, fluffy nap. Wool fibres are soft, crimped, and scaly. When a wool blanket is placed in warm soapy water, the fibres become soft and plastic. If the blanket is subjected to hard rubbing or wringing, the fibres tend not only to creep up on each other, but to stick together.

Because of the danger of this shrinkage and matting of the wool when it is washed, every homemaker should understand the rules of washing blankets properly. Since wool cannot stand too much cold or too much heat, only lukewarm water should be used for washing and rinsing. The temperature of the water should never be above 90 degrees F.

The second thing to remember, Miss Gordon said, is to use soft water and mild neutral soap, never a strong laundry soap. Two table-spoonsful of borax to each cup of water should be added if the water needs softening. If a sediment forms, the water should be strained.

Water should be squeezed, not twisted, out of a blanket. If a wringer is used, the blanket should be folded flat and the tension on the rolls released to avoid crushing the nap.

All Hens To Produce For National Defense

The long arc of the National Defense Program has now reached out and tagged ever yhen, says C. F. Parrish, extension poultryman of N. C. State College.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has just launched a nationwide drive to produce every possible egg from present laying flocks this spring and summer in order to keep this country as well as others which are resisting aggression well supplied.

It has been pointed out that this goal can be achieved partly by ample feeding of birds on hand and partly by filling up the nation's poultry houses with laying birds this fall. Present plans call for a six percent increase in egg production or about 10,000,000 cases of 30 dozen eggs each during the next 15 months.

Every farm family should produce enough eggs each week of the year to supply their family needs as well as a surplus for the Defense Program, Parrish pointed out. This can be accomplished with little trouble and expense.

In his May suggestions to poultrymen, the State College specialist advised producers not to sell out their flocks but to cull out the unprofitable birds instead. Where flocks are well fed, any bird that quits laying before September should be removed and a pullet grown to replace her.

Other suggestions he issued were Use good feed just as regularly as when egg prices were higher; keep the flock cool and well supplied with fresh water; treat the roost poles with used motor oil at least once every three weeks to control or prevent red mite infestation in the hen house; plant summer green feed crops now; and dispose of or pen the male birds.

Coffin was found unconscious on the lawn by two hospital attendants.

Fisher termed the death a suicide and said Coffin was suffering from melancholia.

Fort Bragg, Va. 13.—Lieut. Col. L. L. Simpson, construction quarter master, said today that bids would be asked for the construction of buildings at the post totaling $1,000,000, and contracts would be let for the building of roads costing $115,000.

THE HITCH-HIKERS

Experiments at the University of California revealed that iron appears in cow's milk within five minutes after the animal is fed iron-containing food.

The Ashe County Sheep Growers' Association has its own insurance against sheep-killing dogs, claims being paid last year on 12 animals, says C. J. Rich, farm agent.

Farmers now marketing their 1941 wool clips are receiving higher prices, generally, than at any time since the early months of 1929, reports the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The start of the seventh year of the Federal rural electrification program finds nearly three times as many farm families with central station power as in 1935.

A wheat marketing quota, designed to divide a limited market among all growers and to keep part of the surplus off the market until needed has been proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Rural families of Caldwell County have filed 2,116 applications for 3,265 mattresses under the mattress-making program, reports Max A. Culp, assistant farm agent.

A large number of Transylvania County farmers are realizing the value of potash, particularly on the black bottom soils of the county, reports Edwin L. Shoofe, assistant farm agent.
