Looking 'Em Over

Jack Hollifield, a product of the No. 3 school district, is now playing shortstop on our Junior Legion team.
This is Hollifields first year on the team and if he maintains his present pace, Jack will be headed for a nice season. He has already proven to be a steady fielder, with a stout arm, and a mighty good lead-off man to have around. As present he is also batting at a good pace.
Fans, don't forget our game with Shelby here on Saturday at 4:00 p. m.—until then, we'll be Looking 'Em Over.

Rural Home "Nerve Center" Takes Tonic

The "Nerve Center" if any home is the kitchen. Through its doors, day in and day out, passes an endless stream of food, dishes, and people. On its working tables there is constant activity. Small wonder then, that the homemaker cannot be happy in a kitchen inadequately equipped.
Today, in the country as well as the city, the kitchen can be modern and convenient. Varied equipment, which makes cooking and cleaning easy, is available to any woman who demands some of the pleasant relaxation this machine age affords. Unfortunately, many kitchens cannot offer this added leisure. The number of old fashioned kitchens are still far out of proportion to the number of modern kitchens, even though American Manufacturing methods have provided ample modern facilities.

In a program of kitchen modernization, homemakers should concentrate first on the three primary "Nerve Centers"—the Stove, Refrigerator, and sink. Although it becomes economical over a period of time, complete kitchen modernization can represent a sizeable investment at the start. More and more people are planning their future kitchens—changing and remodeling as time and money permits.
Now the country and suburban dweller no longer need hesitate in starting her modernization program. An ideal unit to begin with is the stove. Kerosene oil ranges now are as modern in appearance as efficient in performance as any gas or electric range. Improvements in recent years have made kerosene stoves and ranges, highly efficient, with their clean, quick, intense, controlled heat. In operation, they have advanced as far as the modern automobile over the car of 1915. Porcelain enameled finishes have banished cleaning drudgery. Glass wool insulated ovens turn over perfectly baked pies, cakes, and meals easily operated burner controls eliminate all of the old-fashioned troubles of lighting and adjusting; and large, accessible storage compartments take care of idle utensils.
Here is a simple, economical way to begin a program of kitchen modernization that will pay big dividends in increased efficiency, added leisure, and better health. Continuation of such a program will soon make your kitchen the envy of all your friends and result in establishing your home as the style leader of the community.
