Surplus Foods Distributed

An average of more than three 50-car trainloads of surplus commodities flowed into North Carolina each month of the fiscal year closed in June with total shipments from the federal government being sent in 1,891 cars. A. E. Langston, state director of commodity distribution, announced.

A total of 69,613,246 pounds of foodstuffs worth $4,102,224 at retail prices was given to needy and undernourished North Carolinians along with 747,189 household articles worth $663,424.

School lunch rooms giving free meals during the scholastic season to needy and undernourished graded school pupils received 15,382,207 pounds of food valued at $1,004,628. General cases were distributed 54,231,029 pounds worth $3,097,585.

Both the Surplus Marketing Administration and the Works Projects Administration contributed clothing or household articles to the department's distribution program and the total value of all articles and food was set by Langston at $4,765,648.

Foods distributed consisted of fruits, eggs, milk products, meat products, vegetables, grain products and shell peas and were sent from area warehouses twice a month to county welfare departments to be given to the needy in the respective localities.

Langston said the record food distribution did not include surplus products obtained through retail stores by means of the stamp plan in Wake, Durham, New Hanover, and Mecklenburg, Gaston, Guilford, Buncombe, Nash and Wayne counties.
