GOOD PASTURES PAY HANDSOME DIVIDENDS

Land, labor, and seed used for temporary and permanent pastures pay handsome dividends, says James L. Moore, assistant in dairy investigations for the Experiment Station at N. C. State College.

North Carolina has 1,250,000 acres of idle clear land. Such a portion of this as will make a fair crop of corn should be prepared this fall and seeded to permanent pasture. That portion which is too poor to make a fair crop of corn should be put on the way to improvement up to that point, using recommended methods.

It is likely, Moore said, that if we are to have ample permanent pasture for our livestock, it will be necessary to bring the present idle land into use, seeding the fertile portions at once and improving the poorer parts as rapidly as possible.

For temporary grazing crops this winter and next spring, the State College man suggested that growers give a mixture of Italian rye grass and crimson clover ample consideration. These sown together will give excellent results in most sections of the State if put into the ground during September or during the early part of October. Recommended rate of seeding is 25 lbs. of the rye grass and 15 pounds of the clover per acre.

Another good mixture for temporary grazing, Moore said, is: three bushels of winter oats or two bushels of wheat, 15 pounds of crimson clover, and 15 pounds of Italian rye grass.

Still another mixture to be recommended is: two bushels of oats, one bushel of wheat, one bushel of abruzzian rye, and 15 pounds of Italian rye grass.

Winter hay crops should be sown from Oct. 1 to 20, the dairy specialist said.

HOME COMING AT BEULAH CHURCH

The annual homecoming will be held at Beulah Methodist church next Sunday. The Rev. J. E. B. Houser will preach at 11 o'clock and the former Governor and Mrs. Clyde R. Hoey will be the main speakers in the afternoon.

There will be special music during the day. Dinner will be spread on the grounds at the noon-hour. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

FARM QUESTIONS

Q.—Will lost or stolen cotton stamps be replaced?

A.—Cotton stamps which are lost, stolen or defaced beyond identification can not be replaced, says E. Y. Floyd, state AAA executive assistant at State College. Stamps which are only partially defaced, or charred, but which still can be identified as such, may be replaced if they are packed in cotton and mailed to W. B. Robertson, chief of the finance division, Surplus Marketing Administration, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Is it good practice to seed winter legumes with a grain drill?

A.—If the land is carefully prepared, pulverized by shallow plowing and harrowing or disking, a grain drill can be used to good advantage inasmuch as this practice tends to save seed, says E. C. Blair, extension agronomist. Seedings of 15 pounds of hairy vetch or 20 pounds of Austrian winter peas to the acre with a drill will return good stands.

American consumption of wool is on the rise. More than 105,000,000 pounds of scoured wool was used by U. S. mills in June this year.
