

Southern Ga. 15 Years, Under 15 to 25

Two cases of unusual interest in this Mountain were tried in the County Superior Court the first of the week. The first case was that of thirty-one year old Allen Carrithers of High Point, who told the court he had another three and a half years to serve on a sentence for breaking into a High Point dry cleaning company, was given an additional 15 years in active sentences in Gaston Superior Court Monday by Presiding Judge W. H. G. Dugay on charges growing out of the shooting there last May 7 of state Highway Patrolman R. T. Collins.

Carrithers, who was an escaped convict at the time of the shooting of Patrolman Collins, entered a plea of guilty, contending to the shooting claim, but took the stand to say that he did not intentionally shoot the state patrolman. He claimed he and Patrolman Collins were struggling over the patrolman's pistol, which he had snatched from Collins' holster when the pistol accidentally went off. He said he grabbed the pistol so that he and his companion, Harry Cabe, 20, of Gaston, another escaped convict, and 16-year-old Colleen Johnson, might escape after prison officials had trapped them in the car of Gastonia in a stolen car.

Carrithers denied he stole a truck belonging to Roosevelt Parks, local man, and abandoned it at Kings Mountain on his escape route. He said he hitch-hiked directly to NEW YORK CITY and remained there several months, working in a New York dry cleaning plant before coming to Jacksonville, Fla., where he was picked up by police six weeks ago.

Judge Dugay gave Carrithers a 15-year sentence for breaking into the home of Patrolman Collins and a 5 year sentence for stealing the automobile at which he was riding when the patrolman stopped him. He directed a verdict of not guilty in the case against Carrithers.

Judge Dugay also gave Carrithers a 15-year sentence for reckless driving. Patrolman Collins testified he was making 65 to 90 miles an hour along Wilkinson boulevard. Judge Dugay gave Carrithers a 12 month sentence, but it runs concurrent with the other sentences.

Harry Cabe, who was with Carrithers, got an additional 2 year active sentence and a 5 year concurrent sentence. He told the court he was serving a 20 year sentence for homicide when he escaped, before sentenced on that charge from Lenoir county (Kinston). No case was made against the Johnson girl who testified about the shooting and subsequent escape of herself and Cabe, who was taken into custody at Fayetteville the day after the shooting here. Patrolman Cabe was recovered from the bullet wound in a local hospital.

The second case was that of George L. Miller (who had pleaded guilty to robbing Jake England, Kings Mountain, driver, of approximately $600 and his taxi) was sentenced to serve 15 to 20 years in the penitentiary.

England said Miller and his wife each had a pistol and forced him at pistol point to drive them from Kings Mountain to a point on the Charlotte-Lincolnton road, where they forced him out of the cab. The $600 — or about that amount — was in the glove compartment of the cab it was said.

Judge Dugay has not yet passed sentence on Mrs. Miller, pretty 21 year old blonde mother of two children. It developed during Miller's trial that he also has another wife and several children by her.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, in court referred to as Mr. Miller, showed some jewelry and other articles which they said they had bought out of the stolen money and wanted to return. These items included two men's watches and bracelets, a cigarette case, a Christmas tie and other articles.

YOUTH TO HAVE CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Youth Division, Central Methodist church, has issued invitations to leaders of young people in other churches, inviting them to a Christmas party on Christmas Eve in the basement of the church. Following the party, the young people plan to sing Christmas carols around town. A large number of young people are expected to take part in this Yuletide celebration.
