A LIVING MEMORIAL

What could be more fitting than a beautiful and useful park in memory of those who gave their lives that we could have freedom?

As everyone knows, when a few of the privileged start planning things for the underprivileged, there is a feeling of resentment. As if someone is trying to force charity upon them. Result: Nothing at all is accomplished.

To eliminate this feeling of dissatisfaction, let every man, woman and child pledge themselves to give a percentage of their total income. In this way everyone could say, "I gave a tenth of my income on the new park"—and in so doing Mr. X would feel equal to Mr. Big, and rightfully so, because in giving his tenth Mr. X probably sacrificed more than Mr. Big. Also, let everyone that fulfills his or her pledge, have an equal vote on where and how the proposed park shall be built and located.

All told, with free will offerings, pledges, contributions from local clubs and lodges such as Masons, Lions, Kiwanis, American Legion, V. F. W., and many others added to what our national and state governments would give us, we should be able to build a park consisting of 2 golf courses, swimming pool, skating rink, tennis courts, swings, band stand, picnic grounds, and everything that goes with making a park and recreational center a success.

I propose that members of our city council get in touch with the people in their wards and get the public's reaction to the above proposal, and start the ball rolling. Kings Mountain has been like the proverbial cow, tail on such projects in the past. Let's get going and be first for a change.

enjoy life to the fullest with our school friends.
If grandma make it so — Kings Mountain High athletic program should be on the spot when "Shirley" King makes his debut on the school team.
Personals: It seems William Spillane and Catherine Tully don't really married on account of her old man didn't have a home to carry a gun.
The big wind last week blew so hard that one of Dr. Anthony's hens had to lay the same egg four times.

Recalled: One 7th of Oct; our first and last college football game—Lenor Elyne vs. Durham—President Hoover made a speech at the battleground. "Wild Bill" Hallahan of Cards beat Phil As in World Series game, 3 to 1.

K. M. H. boasted only twin battery mates in south—Will (Lefty) the pitcher and Gordon (Nighy) the catcher. Oh yes! You guessed it — the Hughes boys. K. M. H. carried off all honors at the county fair field day. The late "Doc" DeArmond coach.

Colon Reynolds, known to his friends as "Pat" loved sports. True, the variety was limited, baseball and fishing in summer, hunting in the winter, but after his days' work was through he'd enter these activities as eager as a 17 year old, trying out for the "big leagues".
Pat made the supreme sacrifice somewhere in E. rope but he left behind two children.

The least we can do, in appreciation of what he has done, is provide a better place for his children to be brought up in.

A good start is the proposed park, so remember when you buy that new coat or horse or mug of beer that guy's like him is making it possible.

Fighters on the battle front and builders on the home front pause for their daily "Spiritual Meal"

Take a good look at the men above. They are over 4,000 miles from each other. In their prime, they are working around the clock to see the world forever of death, darkness and tormented spirits. One is out there fighting with death, disease and bodily indignities for life. The other is here at home, making the millions of gallons of gas and oil to provide our fighting men with the war, ammunition and supplies needed to win.

Each day daily help and spiritual education in the far homes back to the world—the Bible. One Paul Barker the American Bible Society has distributed over 7,000,000 copies of the Scriptures to our fighting men, prisoners and those in concentration camps. 500,000 more copies are needed this year. Do what you can today. Below is a Bible which showing you just what your contribution will provide for the millions who need a "Spiritual Meal."
