

Local News Bulletins

Herald Personals

Call Society Editor, House 271, Office 55

Capt. Tech. Paul Kirk Hicks is on leave from Camp Tinker, Okla.

Capt. and Mrs. Dan Finger spent a short visit with relatives here this week.

Mrs. Harry Moore of Washington, D. C., has been visiting Mrs. Gandy Patterson.

Pvt. Bob Hicks is spending an 11-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hicks.

Mrs. B. N. Moore of York, S. C., spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. J. C. Lanier.

Mr. Arthur Bennett is recuperating from an operation he underwent at Memorial hospital, Charlotte.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Goforth spent Wednesday with relatives in Shelby.

Mrs. Alice Strong and small son, Alan, returned home after spending a extended stay with 5 friends and relatives in Eau Claire, Wis.

Hilda Gene Shirey spent the past week end in Green, N. C., where she attended the May Day exercises at Furman university.

Adam Beers, 205 W. Ridge street, has received a Japanese flag from his son, Pvt. Edward Beers, serving in the South Pacific theater.

Linda and Martha Baker, young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Baker are recovering from tonsil operations they underwent last week.

H. C. Cloninger, GM to son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cloninger of this city has returned to the States after serving 18 months in the Pacific and is now spending a 16 day leave here.

Mrs. J. G. Hicks, Mrs. Odell Pressley, Pvt. Bob Hicks, Roberta, Melba and Bud Hicks were Sunday night guests of Rev. and Mrs. John Hicks, at Spencerville.

Mrs. O. O. Walker was in Gainesville, Ga., last week attending the spring festival held at Brenau college, where her daughter, Joe Ann, is a student.

ANNUAL JUNIOR-SENIOR PLAY

"CLIMBING ROSES"

By EUGENE G. HAVER

Friday Night, May 11 — High School Auditorium
ADMISSION—25 and 50 Cents — Tax Included

This lovely island of Guernsey is once more free after nearly four years of Nazi occupation. There for hundreds of years a peace loving people pursued quiet, domestic life. And there were bred for generations the ancestors of the world-famous pure bred Guernsey cattle, now so popular in the United States.

In ridding this little island of German oppression, a debt has been paid, for the farmers and breeders of America owe much to the people and history of Guernsey as the source of the productive, pure bred cattle that bear its name. This name is a household word in America in the trade mark of GOLDEN GUERNSEY Milk and this rich, wholesome food proves by its high quality the years of pedigree and care that stem back to the small island in the English Channel.

Guernsey is free. Guernsey folk can soon return to their peaceful and fruitful way of life — a way of life full of the merit which is reflected in the healthful, rich GOLDEN GUERNSEY Milk on American tables today.

Archdale Farms

Phone 2445

THE HERALD PERSONALS THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1945

By H. A. FORD

(Cont'd from front page)
out those places. The prisoners said a few of the German officials, etc., were killed but most of them escaped.

"We have a lot of business working in our home. I don't know what we would have done without them. They have really cleaned the place up, there was so much rubbish around when we first came here. Some of them have been prisoners for three years. A boy working for me that was 21 and had been a prisoner this long, another one was only 18."

More About Prisoners

Wives

(Cont'd from front page)

Mrs. Lydia Goforth who has been on an extended stay in Rock Hill returned to Kings Mountain recently and is now visiting her son, Charles Lubbock, in Shelby.

Miss Frances Barnes who has been spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Barnes, has returned to Charlotte to take a position with the American Trust Co.

Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Winkler, A. H. Patterson, R. B. Neill and R. S. Peeler attended quarterly conference of the Catawba District which met at Palm Tree Methodist church, in Cleveland county, Tuesday.

Mrs. Albert Hollister, mother of Capt. Clyde Hollister, is receiving treatment at Memorial Hospital, Charlotte, who was reported to be getting along as well as could be expected on Wednesday.

Mrs. E. B. Olive has received the Purple Heart Award awarded her son, Pfc. Hal (Bob) Olive for wounds received in the Philippines. His award was received here on Friday. Pfc. Olive wrote that he was going back into combat.

Pfc. Walter H. Elgin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Elgin of Clemmons, has been liberated from a German prison camp on April 16. His wife, the former Miss Grace Elgin, who is making her home on rented Kings Mountain, received a letter from her husband May 1, stating that he would be a patient in a hospital in France for about 30 days and that he hoped to be home sometime in June.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from him on April 7, stating that he was a prisoner of the German government.

Pfc. Elgin entered service in Jan. 1943, and sailed for an overseas station in June, 1944. He was reported missing in action in Germany since January 26, 1945, while serving with the 29th division of the Seventh Army. Ward was received from