MRS. AUSTIN ALEXANDER LACKEY, Jr.

Miss Lenora Plonk Wed On Saturday To Mr. Austin Alexander Lackey, Jr.

A wedding of unusual beauty and charm and of interest throughout the Carolinas and Virginia was that of Miss Lenora Plonk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Grier Plonk, and Mr. Austin Alexander Lackey, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Austin Alexander Lackey of Fallston, which took place Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church of Kings Mountain.

Rev. P. D. Patrick, pastor of the bride, officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

Palms, floor baskets of white gladioli and snap dragons, and numerous seven branched candelabras with white cathedral tapers formed the background for the vows. Prior to the ceremony Evell Lackey and Alvin Hamrick of Fallston lighted the candles.

While the wedding guests were assembling Mrs. N. F. McGill, organist, rendered a program of bridal music which included, "Meditation, from 'Thias' Massent, 'Intermezzo'—Provost, 'Always'—Berlin, 'Liebestraums' Liszt, 'O Perfect Love'—Barmly. James Throneburg sang, "Because"—D'Hardelot, and "I Love You Truly"—Bond, was sung by Billy Gene Amos. The Wedding March from "Lohengrin"—Wagner was played for the processional, and Mendelssohn's "March from a Midsummer Nights Dream" for the recessional. "Clair de Lune"—Debussy was softly played during the ceremony and James Throneburg sang "The Lord's Prayer"—Malotte for the benediction.

Best Man, Ushers
 The bride was given in marriage by her father and Dr. Lackey, father of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were R. G. Plonk, Jr., brother of the bride, John Butler Plonk, Robert Cline and Jim Cline.

The bride's gown was an original model made of skimmers satin in off white tones. The sheer marquisette yoke was outlined with a leaf design of seed pearls accented with a deep ruffle of imported Venetian lace. Long fitted torso skirt made very full ending in a cathedral train.

Her veil of exquisite imported Princess lace was posed over bridal illusion and was caught on each side of the crown of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with white orchids and showered with white satin ribbons. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom.

Miss Dorcas Carpenter was maid of honor. Her gown was of yellow faille tafeta, styled with low neck line with pleated berth fitted bodice, with southern belle hoop skirt, taffeta caught up in front revealing rows of matching lace. She wore matching lace mitts and carried a bouquet of mixed spring flowers tied with orchid ribbons.

Bridesmaids were Miss Jean Webb, Miss Peggy Arthur, Miss Bobbie Simmons of Kings Mountain and Miss Jean Falls of Fallston, cousin of the groom. They wore orchid taffeta dresses of the same design as that of the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of mixed spring flowers tied with yellow ribbon.

Attending the ceremony as guests of honor were a group of the bride's close friends who entered the church just before the wedding party and were seated in a special pew. These were Misses Louann Herndon, Kitty Falls, Betty Hord, Betty Lynch, Mary Beth Hord, Frances Payne and Beulah Rhea.

The bride's mother wore a dress of dusty rose crepe with a shoulder corsage of violets. The groom's mother wore light blue and an orchid shoulder corsage.

Reception
 Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at a reception at the Woman's club house. The hall and lounge held striking arrangements of white gladioli and lacy fern in white floor baskets. On the mantle in the lounge was a very artistic arrangement of white snapdragons with lacy fern and white tapers in silver holders were used on either end of the mantle.

Guests were greeted at the door by Rev. and Mrs. P. D. Patrick, Mrs. G. V. Patterson of Gastonia, aunt of the bride introduced them to the receiving line composed of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Plonk, Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Lackey, the bride and groom and the bridal party.

Inviting guests into the dining room were Mr. and Mrs. Jay Patterson, receiving in the dining room Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Arthur.

The bride's table was covered with an imported lace trimmed linen cloth, centered with a silver bowl of white snapdragons, flanked on either side by silver antique candelabras holding lighted white tapers. On each end of the table was a large silver platter holding bridal cakes, silver compotes with mixed nuts completed the table arrangement. Girls serving green and white block ice cream, and individual cakes iced in white with white rose buds and green leaves were Misses Louann Herndon, Betty Hord, Frances Payne, Beulah Rhea, Betty Lynch, Patty Neisler, Shirley Arthur and Kitty Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Carpenter invited guests to the punch bowl. The table was covered with an imported maderia cloth in the center was a large crystal punch bowl, silver candle holders with white tapers were used on one side of the bowl, silver trays holding the punch cups were on the other side. Miss Je'Anne Griffin and Miss Marion Arthur served punch.

Baskets of white gladioli, lighted candles and an ivy covered lattice fence completed the decorations in the dining room.

Guests were directed to the register by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Griffin, Miss Jette Plonk, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Caswell Taylor of Gastonia, cousin of the bride, were in charge of the register. Miss Jean Davis and Miss Mary Beth Hord furnished piano music during the reception.

Good-byes were said by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Webb.

Later the couple left for a wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a two-toned grey suit. Her accessories were grey and lilac-orchid and she wore a white orchid from her bride bouquet. The couple will make their home in Fallston upon their return.

The bride was graduated from the Kings Mountain schools and attended the Plonk School of Creative Art in Asheville and Limestone college.

The bridegroom was graduated from the Fallston schools and attended Oak Ridge Military Academy and Lenoir Rhyne college.

Out of town guests included a large number from Fallston and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Plonk, Mrs. Rufus Plonk, Jr., Bessemer City; Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Bumgardner, Mrs. W. J. Wortman, Miss Ruth Yelvington, Charlotte; Mr. Charles Stamey, Chapel Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Beam, Cherryville; Mrs. B. N. Moore, York, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kincaid, Morganton; Mr. and Mrs. W. MYF Active During Lent

The Methodist Youth Fellowship met Sunday night for a talk on "How Can I Know What is Right With My Money?" led by a local lawyer, Faison Barnes.

"Time For Communion With God," is the topic for next Sunday's evening meeting. The program committee, Jack Matthews, chairman, Nan Jean Gant, Patricia Prince, Jo Ann Falls, and Jo Ann Hayes, worked out this program at a "Workshop" held Tuesday night at the home of Betty Wilson. B. S. Peeler, Jr., director of the Junior choir, also met with the group for practice at this "Workshop."

Seniors will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the church basement for another "Workshop." Each member is to bring a pound of something to eat to provide refreshments.

Plans are being made for an Easter program and sacrificial meal on "Good Friday."

A special program, "Praying Hands," is to be presented Sunday morning in the youth chapel at ten o'clock, for the entire Methodist Youth Fellowship.
