Study Club Meets With Mrs. C. Davidson

The members of the Study Club and the following guests, Mrs. E. B. Ellerbe, Mrs. A. S. Cover, Mrs. P. D. Patrick, Mrs. Paul Patrick of Charlotte, S. C., Miss Janet Scoggins, Miss Marie Lineberger, Mrs. W. G. Hord, and Mrs. Aubrey Clay of Waco were delightfully entertained at the Country Club Tuesday night by Mrs. Carl Davidson.

The main dining room of the club was festive with mixed spring flowers. The table was in U-shape and held a central flower arrangement of white snap dragons and red glads. on the ends were low arrangements of white flowers. When guests assembled they were seated at the table and the hostess assisted by Mrs. Aubrey Mauney, Mrs. Aubrey Clay, and Mrs. P. D. Herndon, served coffee and pecan pie topped with ice cream.

When the table was cleared Mrs. B. N. Barnes, president, called the meeting to order and presented Mrs. Davidson who was in charge of the program. Mrs. Davidson presented Miss Jean Lynch who gave a reading, "Afraid Of The Dark." Miss Lynch has won the Fulton medal and the County School masters medal. Mrs. Aubrey Mauney who recently made a trip to Bermuda gave a very interesting account of it and also showed colored slides which were enjoyed.

Routine business was then disposed of, Mrs. Charles Campbell was welcomed back into the club.

MYF Has Many Activities

In the youth chapel, Central Methodist church, on Sunday morning a worship program was presented by Miss Elizabeth Hunt's class of girls, using the painting, "The Last Supper" on a table covered in white as a worship center. Yellow tulips were placed on a side table.

Next Sunday morning, John Warlick is to serve as program chairman using the theme, "Christ Knocks at Our Hearts' Doors," with the painting, "The Light of the World" as a worship center.

On Sunday evening the Youth Fellowship was served a light supper by Circle No. 6. Seniors met for a program, "Day by Day," led by Dottie Smith. Miss Elizabeth Hunt directed the group in practice for the youth choir which sang for the evening service.

Seniors were to attend the Gastonia Sub-District MYF meeting at Bradley Memorial Methodist church in Gastonia on Thursday night, April 28.

This group is planning a parents' reception to be given during Family Week, May 1-8.

Hi-Lo Bridge Club With G. E. Bridges

Spring flowers were used for decorations with pleasing effect last Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glee E. Bridges when they entertained the Hi-Lo bridge club.

Interesting progressions were enjoyed when tallies were compared Mrs. Sam Stalling was high for ladies with J. C. Bridges high for men.

At the conclusion of the games the hostess served a salad course.

Investiture Service Girl Scout Troop No. 19

The Investiture service of the Girl Scout Troop 19 was held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the First Baptist church. Rev. L. C. Pinnix was in charge of the service, assisted by Miss Fannie Funderburke, the director of Pioneer Girl Scout area, and Miss Florence Stabler, field director of Cleveland county.

This is the first Girl Scout Investiture service to be held in a church since the complete organization of Girl Scouts in Kings Mountain.

The Flag bearers were Marilyn Tesseener and Derice Weir. The Color Guards were Kathryn Ware and Sara Houser. The Flag bearers and Color Guards led the Processional as the organist, Miss Lula Mae Teague played "Onward Christian Soldiers." After placing the Flags at the altar, the Scouts retired to re-enter with Troop 19 and their leaders. This processional began with Miss Funderburke, Mrs. William Houser, Miss Stabler and Mrs. James Littlejohn leading, and followed by Troop to be invested. Also following were Brownie Troop 24 and their leaders, Miss Naomi Edens and Miss Diana Gamble. Brownie Troop 14 with their leader, Mrs. James Simpson; Intermediate Troop 4 and leader, Miss Helen Ramsey; Intermediate Troop 11 and leaders, Miss Elizabeth Hunt and Miss Payseur; Boy Scout Troop 6 and Scoutmaster, C. D. Ware. Others making up the processional was the Town Council of Girl Scouting, the First Baptist Church Committee of Girl Scouts, Committee of Troop 19, and parents of the Girls to be invested.

Silver horseshoes with lovely yellow satin bows marked the pews for all Scouters and committees. Artistic arrangements of Scout Prune yellow tulips and yellow Dutch iris made a beautiful setting for the service.

The ceremony was simple but impressive and during the service, the organist played soft music. Rev. Pinnix approached the altar and lighted a single taper before the Cross which symbolized the Church of Christ. The pastor then presented the Troop to Miss Funderburke and Miss Stabler for the investiture. The troop formed in the horseshoe position before the altar and Miss Funderburke lighted the three tapers in the three branched candelabrum. That represented the Girl Scout Promise.

The 10 Girl Scout laws were said in unison and each girl lighted a candle. The patrol leader, Derice Weir presented each girl to be invested, namely: Jane Harris, Kathryn Ware, Fern Barrett, Marilyn Tesseener, Patricia Malcolm, Judith Logan and Sara Houser. Yvonne Lindsay, was not present, due to sickness. The Girl Scout Promise was made together and pins were given which made them full fledged Scouts. The leaders, Mrs. Houser and Mrs. Littlejohn were then invested and welcomed into the Sisterhood of Girl

Scouts. The prayer of blessing was given by the minister which followed with the benediction and choral response the Scouts retired just as they had entered. Immediately after the morning services Miss Funderburke, Miss Stabler and Mrs. Luther Cansler were entertained at a luncheon in Shelby by the Scout Committees of the Baptist church.
