Byron, Flock Battle Sunday At Hillsboro

HILLSBORO. — Red Byron, and Fonty Flock, two of the nation's outstanding stock car drivers, will resume their battle next Sunday afternoon, but this time they will go to the post in identically the same type cars to battle it out in North Carolina's major strictly stock car race of the year.

The 200-mile strictly stock car speed classic, slated for the famous Occoneechee Speedway, means 200 laps of thrill packed action as some 40 new model automobiles go to the post at 2:45 p. m. for this big event.

Preparations have been made at the famous mile speedway to accommodate a crowd in excess of 30,000 people. Time trials will be held Friday and Saturday afternoons with the 40 fastest cars qualifying for the start of the feature Sunday.

Byron, winner of the recent 160-mile strictly stock car feature at Daytona Beach, Fla., will again be driving his famous No. 22, which in this case will be Raymond Parks' 1949 Oldsmobile 88.

Flock, who placed second to Jim Roper of Great Bend, Kansas, in the 150-mile strictly stock car race at Charlotte sometime ago in a 1949 Hudson, will be wheeling a 1949 Oldsmobile 88 also, this one being entered by Sam Rice, Martinsville, Va., sportsman and track owner. Rice placed fourth in the Charlotte race and his car came in third at Daytona Beach with Frank Mundy, the thrill show star, at the wheel.

Practically every type American made car will be competing in this classic, including Lincolns, Fords,

Farm-Home Week Show is Planned

One of the highlights of Farm and Home Week, which is to be held on the State College campus in Raleigh August 8-11, will be a gigantic land preparation demonstration during which approximately 30 tractors and tillage machines will be used on a 50-acre field at the same time, according to H. M. Ellis, agricultural engineer for the State College Extension Service.

Representatives of 10 major farm machinery manufacturers will demonstrate all of their land preparation machinery at 2 p. m. Thursday, August 11, on a field just north of the State Fair grounds. The field, which is typical of land that might be prepared for pasture seeding in the Piedmont, will be divided into five-acre plots, Ellis said. Dealers will draw lots for location and each will then put from two to seven tractors and pieces of equipment to work.

Equipment to be demonstrated includes bottom plows, disc plows, tillers, bush and bog, single and tandem discs, subsoilers, heavy duty field cultivators and at least one piece of heavy earth-moving equipment. The demonstration will be continuous from 2 to 5 p. m.

Farm and Home Week visitors will board buses on the State College campus beginning at 1 p. m. Buses will operate in shuttle runs all during the demonstration to accommodate those who cannot stay the full time. Refreshments will be available at the demonstration site. An added feature of the event will be drawing for valuable prizes including a plow valued at $300. Visitors will be given numbered tickets as they enter the demonstration area. Drawing will take place at about 5 o'clock.

Ellis hails the demonstration as an unprecedented opportunity for farmers to compare all the different brands of machinery in actual operation. For three days prior to the demonstration, Farm and Home Week visitors will be able to see this and other equipment on display at the exhibit grounds across the street from the State College library.
