Sport Shots

BY CHARLES CARPENTER

Mr. Inside, Doc Blanchard, of Army, made good news in the sports pages with the announcement that he will play with the Charlotte Clippers, independent professional football team, this fall.

And with the 15 game card that Business Manager Bob Allen has rigged up for this season, the Mighty Clippers will find good use for him and anybody else that "Cousin Bob" manages to pick up one of his scouting cruises.

Doc's being in the line-up hinges on only one point, as we see it. The Army, as most of us know, might find need for him in Alaska or Panama, come about October. He has evidently already made satisfactory arrangements with the commanding officer of Shaw Field in Sumter, S. C., that is if a new CO doesn't move in.

Football fans of this section are fortunate that Mr. Inside will be able to perform in the pro ranks in Charlotte. He was unable to get Army permission for leave after graduation from West Point — leave to play pro football for three years. His famous partner, Mr. Outside or Glenn Davis, has been less fortunate to date — is still serving in the Army.

Eleven games of the 15-game Clip card are listed for Memorial Stadium in Charlotte, with the September 3 (Saturday) date with the New York Yankees a highlight. First home game is billed for August 27, a Saturday, with McKeesport.

Coach Shu Carlton is busy wrapping up another week of coaching school, this week at Lenoir-Rhyne college. He was at Chapel Hill last week. Next week Shu, in a brand new Chevrolet (the hopes), will journey to Greensboro for another week of schooling. High school football practice opens the following week, August 15th, and a large number of candidates is expected. Plans are underway for a bantam football league of four teams for play this fall. Announcement is expected soon. Jake Early has been hitting the ball pretty good during the past couple of weeks but the Washington Senators continue to lose. The Nats have 15 games remaining to be played with the Boston Red Sox and figure to "be in the pennant figuring" for the season closes. Carl Wilson, brother of George with the Louisville AA team, has been listening to Col. games on AM radio (between Spartanburg and Greenville) and reports no less than 7 Carolinians on the Louisville team. Carl was busy with his Neisler Mills softball team in the Gastonia softball tournament, which started Wednesday.
