MRS. WILLIAM HOKE PAGE

Miss Audrey Doris May Married
Saturday To William Hoke Page

The marriage of Miss Audrey Doris May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Charles May, Sr., and William Hoke Page, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Page of Lincolnton, was solemnized in an afternoon ceremony July 30, 1949, in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, Greenville, North Carolina. The Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw of Wilson, former pastor of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church heard the vows of the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with oregon and plumosa greens, seven, nine, and twelve branched candelabra and tall standards of white glads and white bracken. At the altar single candelabra with tall cathedral candles were used.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Mr. Leon Fleming, organist, and Mr. Harper Darden, soloist. Mr. Darden sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "All For You." At the close of the ceremony, "Oh Perfect Love" was sung as a benediction. Traditional marches were used and "To A Wild Rose" was played during the ceremony.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of candlelight satin with fitted bodice, portrait neckline, bouffant skirt ending in a cathedral train. The full length sleeves ended in calla lily points and the veil of imported French illusion fell from a Queen Anne's bonnet of imported lace. The dress was made by the bride's mother. Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

The prayer book, carried by the bride, was used by the groom's mother in her wedding. It was topped with a white orchid and showered with valley lilies.

Miss Shirley Savage was maid of honor, and Mrs. Frank Strawn was the matron of honor. The honor attendants wore white marquisette over taffeta with period-style bodice, drop shoulders, yoke outlined with white embroidery similar to the bride's gown. The bouffant skirts with bands of white embroidery hung full over hoop skirts. They wore long mitts of white marquisette.

The bridesmaids were Misses Addie Mae Page of Emory University, sister of the groom, Margaret Goforth of Rutherfordton, Betsy Hellen of Greenville, and Jean Davis of Kings Mountain. Their white dresses were in the same style of those of the honor attendants. All the attendants carried cascade bouquets of asters tied with pastel shades of satin-ribbons. They wore matching tiaras of flowers. Honorary bridesmaids were Misses Betsy Noble, Suzanne Kilgo, and Mary Alice Davis, all of Greenville, and Mrs. John Getsinger of Williamston.

Katie Lou Williams of Kinston was flower girl. Wilson Lowery, Jr., of Trenton was ring bearer. These attendants were cousins of the bride.

Harry E. Page of Kings Mountain was best man for his brother.

Ushers were James H. Page, of Kings Mountain, brother of the groom, C. Rhyne Little, Lincolnton, William J. McLaughlin of Wilson, Ralph Moore, New Milford, Conn., James Ward of Greenville, Garrison Goforth and Menzell Phifer of Kings Mountain, and Robert Charles May, Jr., of Greenville, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained at a reception at the Greenville Woman's Club. The bridal color scheme of green and white was carried out in decorations.

Receiving at the front door were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Arnan and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown and Rev. Bradshaw. Mr. and Mrs. James F. Lowery introduced the guests to the receiving line, which was composed of Mr. and Mrs. May, the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Page, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McLaughlin.

Mrs. Charles A. White introduced to the second receiving line which included the bride's attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Manning, Jr., invited guests to the refreshment table. Mrs. Adelaide Bloxton and Miss

Mable Lacy of the faculty of East Carolina Teachers College, served punch. They were assisted in serving bridal cakes, nuts and minis by Misses Verna Belle and Katherine Lowery and Mrs. Garrison Goforth and Mrs. Menzel Phifer of Kings Mountain.

Mrs. J. R. Lowery of Trenton, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. J. R. Davis of Kings Mountain, presided at the bride's book. Goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Lowery of Elizabeth City.

Assisting throughout the club house were Misses Mary Alice Davis, Suzanne Kilgo, Betsy Nobles, Betty Lou Brown, and Mesdames Lee Alcorn, John C. Getsinger, Adron Skinner, Keith Williams, and Paul Taylor. Misses Frances Amand and Jean McClean played nuptial music at the reception, and Mr. Darden rendered several solos.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Page left on a wedding trip. For traveling, the bride wore a palm beach suit of aqua with black accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. After August 15, the couple will make their home in Kings Mountain.

Mrs. Page attended Greenville High School and was graduated from East Carolina Teachers College, with an A. B. degree in home economics and science. Since her graduation, she has been teaching vocational home economics in Kings Mountain.

Mr. Page graduated from Kings Mountain High School and served three years in the army. Thirty-two months were spent in China, Burma, and India. He is now employed at the Neisler Mills, Inc., in Kings Mountain.

The bride was extensively entertained in both Greenville and Kings Mountain.

Those attending from Kings Mountain were Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Page, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Page, Mrs. J. R. Davis, Miss Jean Davis, Miss Jean McClain, Mr. and Mrs. Menzell Phifer, and Mr. and Mrs. Garrison Goforth.

Commercial hatcheries produced 111,670,000 chicks during June, 20 percent more than the number produced during June last year but 9 cent below the June, 1943-47, average.

CROP Milk Reaches Children Overseas

Thousands of refugee children, such as this one being fed by Sister Klara, Lutheran nurse in the Lohr Haus Children's home in Munich, have been supplied with milk through the contributions of American farmers to the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), according to John D. Metzler, national chairman.

In the year ending June 1, CROP handled 75,668,581 pounds of farm commodities, valued at $6,576,000. Included in this amount were 4,470,000 pounds of milk. Shipments were made to 22 foreign countries.

"Since milk is desperately needed, we shall strive to obtain a larger quantity of it in the 1949 CROP campaign," Metzler said. "In many areas children over nine months still get no milk at all. Younger ones get one-fourth pint a day."

CROP is sponsored nationally by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service, and Lutheran World Relief.
