

MRS. HENRY PARKS NEISLER

Miss Marilyn Sue Biggers Married To Henry Parks Neisler On Tuesday

Miss Marilyn Sue Biggers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Carl Biggers of Charlotte, and Henry Parks Neisler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Neisler of Kings Mountain were wedded Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock at the Myers Park Presbyterian church in a ceremony of much beauty and charm.

Dr. George Dewitt Heaton, pastor of Myers Park Baptist church, and Rev. Paul Dickson Patrick, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Kings Mountain, officiated.

The vows were spoken before a towering background of clobotium, lace, and woodwardia fern and numerous seven-branched candelabra holding cathedral tapers. The windows were banked with fern, and lighted by candles. The pews for the families and special guests were marked by bows of white satin ribbon, fern, and maline.

The music was presented by Mrs. Loretta Bombara Short, organist, and Mrs. Michael E. Berman. Mrs. Short played "Sheep May Safely Graze," Bach, "Legende," Bedell, "Schergetto," Vierne, and "Aria," from "Suite in D," Bach. Mrs. Berman sang "I Love Thee," and "The Pledge." The wedding march from the third act of "Lohengrin," Wagner, was played for the processional, and Mendelsahon's march from "A Midsummer Night's Dream," for the recessional.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and the bridegroom had his father as best man. The ushers were Charles and Paul M. Neisler, Jr., brother of the bridegroom, Ralph Northcutt, cousin of the bridegroom, and David Neill, all of Kings Mountain, Bobby Maner of Wilmington, and Carl Biggers, brother of the bride.

Miss Mary Jane Hurt of Charlotte, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Susan Johnson, Miss Clara Barnes, and Miss Mary Virginia Sommers, all of Charlotte, and Miss Pat Neisler of Kings Mountain, cousin of the bridegroom.

The junior bridesmaids were Miss Lucy Manning of Durham, cousin of the bride, and Miss Kathryn Hoyle of Kings Mountain, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a gown of bridal satin in delicate blush tone, fashioned with a fitted bodice scalloped low over the neckline, very full bouffant skirt that extended into a bell-shaped train. The close fitted sleeves were pointed over the wrists, and there was a deep round yoke of hand-made medallions centered with small seed pearls. The three-tiered veil of imported French illusion was fingertip length and worn with a small face-framing bonnet of illusion medallions and pearls. She carried a small white satin Bible topped with a bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis, and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor wore a dress of American Beauty velveteen fashioned with a close fitted bodice basque, off-shoulder neckline finished with a shirred band of velveteen. The full basque skirt was worn over a white tulle skirt. She carried a cascade of white pompon chrysanthemums and fresh English ivy, holding clusters of chrysanthemums pierced with silver leaves.

The bridesmaid's dresses and bouquets were identical to those worn by the maid of honor. The junior bridesmaids wore white velveteen dresses also fashioned after that worn by the maid of honor. They carried cascade bouquets of American Beauty roses and English ivy, and wore circlets of roses on their hair.

Mrs. Biggers, mother of the bride, wore a dress of gold brocade on ivory faille, and a brown orchid in the low neckline. Mrs. Neisler, mother of the bridegroom, wore a Carnegie blue chiffon dress with bodice and sleeves overlaid in crystal beads. Her flowers were purple-throated orchids.

Mrs. Wade H. Williams, grandmother of the bride, wore a dress of shadow lace and a shoulder bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. Henry Nicholas Moss and Mrs. Charles Eugene Neisler, grandmothers of the bridegroom, wore black dresses and shoulder bouquets of gardenias.

Reception Held

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Biggers, parents of the bride, entertained at a charming reception in the Panel room of the church. The room where the bridal party received had a back ground of magnolia leaves and silver wine coolers filled with white chrysanthemums.

The bride's table was covered with a cloth of imported Point de Venise lace centered with a tiered wedding cake flanked by five silver candelabra on each side holding white tapers. Silver figurine epergnes and white satin glass bowls filled with white roses, snapdragons, and lilies of the valley completed the table arrangements.

Assisting in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Berman, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. George Harris. Mrs. E. A. Smith welcomed the guests. Serving punch were Mrs. John T. Lanning of Durham, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Frank Hoyle, Mrs. Harry Page, Mrs. Harold Hunnicutt and Mrs. J. A. Neisler.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. R. J. Hunt, Mrs. G. T. Barnes, Mrs. G. C. Sommers, Mrs. M. P. Johnson, Mrs. William Austin McLeod, Mrs. David Rice of Hamlet, Miss Grace Marie Childs, Miss Ruth Porter, Miss Peggy Barrentine, Miss Betty Ann Pyron, Miss Doris Lawing, and Miss Julia Upchurch. The bride's register was kept by Gene Williams, aunt of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Crich-ton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guthrie said good-bye to the guests.

Later the young couple left for a trip to Florida and will be at home in Kings Mountain after December 1. For traveling the bride wore a bolero suit of taupe miron trimmed in brown velvet, a brown fur coat, and matching taupe cloche banded with a strand of bronze beads. She wore an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride attended the Charlotte City schools and Queens college, where she was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. She made her debut in Raleigh in the fall of 1947.

The bridegroom attended Fishburn military academy in Waynesboro, Va., and was graduated from Davidson college where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He is associated in the textile business with his father in Kings Mountain.

Mrs. Bessie Dickey Weds Paul J. Beam

On Saturday night, November 5, in the Central Methodist parsonage in a simple but very impressive ceremony performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. J. H. Brendall, Mrs. Bessie Dickey became the bride of Paul J. Beam, of Rutherfordton, N. C.

The bride was stunning in a coffee brown dress, brown accessories and brown orchid shoulder corsage. The bride and groom entered the ceremony room together.

Mrs. Beam holds a position with the Margrace Sales room. Mr. Beam is connected with the Seaboard Railroad in Rutherfordton.

Those attending the ceremony were Miss Nancy Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Petrosino.

B. H. Elliotts Hosts At Cake Cutting

Following the rehearsal of the Neill-Elliott wedding Saturday night, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Elliott, entertained the wedding party and out-of-town guests at a cake cutting at the Woman's club.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ware greeted guests at the door and Mr. and Mrs. Neill invited them to the refreshment table.

The lounge of the clubroom was beautiful with the tall white urns in the foyer filled with white chrysanthemums. A color scheme of white and green was emphasized.

The refreshment table was covered with a white organdy appliqued cloth over delicate pink satin. On one end of the table was the large white three-tiered wedding cake topped with bridal figurines. The cake was banked with lace fern interspersed with tiny pom-pom mums. A crystal bowl was in the center of the table with a graceful arrangement of white carnations, pom-pom chrysanthemums, baby's breath and fern. Crystal candelabras holding lighted tapers, a cutglass punch bowl holding lime ice, a crystal platter of molded green and white mints, salted nuts completed the appointments. In the center of the mantle was a low arrangement of chrysanthemums flanked on either side with lighted tapers entwined with dainty tendrils of ivy. On the piano was a like arrangement.

After the bride and groom cut the first piece of cake, Mrs. B. S. Neill cut and served the cake. Mrs. Datha Elliott served lime punch. Others assisting in serving were Mrs.
