Mountaineers Face Stiff Test, Sans Ruth and Kimmell, at Newton Friday

Kings Mountain high school is scheduled at Newton Friday night, hitting the Newton-Conover high school Red Devils a week after they were knocked from the perch of the Western AA standing.

Hickory dumped the Devils last Thursday night 12-7, leaving Newton-Conover a record of three loop wins, one loss, good for third spot in the standings.

The Mountaineers are slated to wind up the season at Shelby on November 7. Shelby is now in second place (record 4-1-1) behind Lenoir (5-1).

Kings Mountain will go against Newton-Conover minus the services of Tailback Jimmy Kimmell and Quarterback Bill Ruth. Tackle Robert Davis, who re-injured an ankle last week and has been working in light equipment all week, may see action. Center Bob Hullender, who missed the Lincolnton contest with an infected foot, is also expected to get back into action. All are playing their final season of high school football.

End Ronnie Layton has also been in light equipment this week due to a back injury suffered in the Lincolnton game but he is expected to be ready for Friday's clash.

Kimmell suffered a slight concussion early in the second period of the Lincolnton game, was carried off the field to a hospital. He was transferred to Kings Mountain hospital, where he was released Tuesday. He may see action in the finale.

Ruth suffered a chipped ankle bone in last week's contest and will be out the remainder of the season. His loss is a big blow to the Mountaineers, who will miss his stellar defensive play and hard offensive blocking.

Ollie Harris, out with injuries the first four games of the season, filled in capably for Kim-

One night recently, the heating plant wasn't operating properly and Mr. Dixon and the plumbers held forth until the wee hours to complete the adjustment job.

Mr. Dixon joined the hospital as business manager when it opened in April 1951, after serving a brief period as an assistant business manager at Shelby hospital. During this short 18 months, he has seen the expansion of the original plant, with the addition of the Lottie Goforth Memorial wing, and soon will see the addition of a modern 13-bed nurses home.

Kings Mountain hospital now has a rated capacity of 40 beds, plus 13 bassinets for infant arrivals and patients.

Most of Mr. Dixon's prior hospital duty was as a patient. Four times wounded in World War II, he is a navy veteran of more than three years service, much of the time spent with the Third Fleet aboard the USS North Carolina and USS Indiana. Before entering the navy in 1942, he worked for 12 years with the Department of Agriculture and Department of

Pro-Stevenson comments paraded the depression of the thirties, Stevenson's experience, and objected to Ike's military background.

An Arkansas citizen wrote: "I remember the Hoover days. The Democrats have done more for the South than we can expect from the Republicans."

And a South Carolinian noted, "Eisenhower is a man of potent military power, but not a man to lead a political movement as we are confronted with today."

A Florida woman said, "I believe too many people remember the breadlines and dollar-a-day labor, when the rich got richer and the poor got poorer under the Republicans."

An Indiana citizen wrote, "I don't think we should have a military man for president."

Several "voters" noted they preferred Taft to Eisenhower, while two said that they would have voted for Kefauver had he been nominated, even though they listed themselves as Republicans.

A man from New Mexico (Pro-Stevenson) regretted that his state allows no absentee voting and that he would not be at home to vote.

England To Play Drama Role

Harold England will play the leading role in the Carolina Playmaker's production "The Pink Circus" which will be presented October 30 and 31 at Chapel Hill in the Playmaker's theatre.

England, who is a junior at the University of North Carolina, plays the role of a seventeen year old Mexican youth who comes with his family to live in the United States but is unhappy due to the death of his father, the incestuous actions of his mother and his difficulty in accepting the American ideas of life.

The play, a tragedy, is written by Mexican born Gonzalo Estrada. England is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. England, and is majoring in the drama.

(Continued From Page One) the people of America," he declared, and cited this difference between the two parties as the basic argument between Thomas Jefferson, father of the Democratic party, and Alexander Hamilton in 1801.

"What do they want to change?" Congressman Jones asked. He suggested that the Republican campaigners had not made the record clear as to whether they wanted to change social security, the rural electrification program, the federal deposit insurance corporation, or reciprocal trade agreements. He declared that federal deposit insurance had eliminated loss to depositors through bank failures, and had virtually eliminated failures. He charged that a high tariff has been a long-term Republican policy.

Had it not been for REA, he said, rural families would not have had electrical service for another quarter century, or more.

Jack White, Kings Mountain attorney, presided over the meeting, and C. C. (Cobby) Horn, of Shelby, chairman of the county's Democratic executive committee, told the group, "Get the people to the polls and we'll have nothing further to worry about after next Tuesday."

Ollie Harris, Kings Mountain mortician, presented Congressman Jones. He praised the Jones record in Congress as highly suitable to the citizens of his district and offered the opinion that Mr. Jones is an outstanding prospect to succeed Senator Clyde R. Hoey, when the United States senator from Shelby retires.

Among officials attending the rally were State Senator Clyde Nolan, State Representative B. T. Falls, Jr., Senator - Nominee Robert Morgan, all members of the city administration, and Robert Blanton, of Forest City, chairman of the 11th District Democratic executive committee.
