

Junior Chamber Hears Shore

Rev. Phil Shore, Central Methodist church minister, former Jaycee and former U. S. Navy officer during World War II, addressed members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the regular meeting of the club Tuesday night at Masonic dining hall.

Rev. Mr. Shore spoke on "Americanism" and was introduced by J. C. McKinney, chairman of the club's Americanism committee, which had charge of the program.

He gave as four major things that help to compose Americanism: 1) "an individual, individualistic sort of a character"; 2) "the ability to surrender something of individual character for the common good"; 3) "a strong streak of religion, faith and love of mankind—a firm set of values"; and 4) "a sense of humor, of the joy of living."

"This is a conception of Americanism at its best, of goal to strive for," he said.

President Joe Hedden presided over the business session.

W. P. Fulton, recently returned from active duty with the army, was welcomed back to the club and guests present were: Gene Gibson, Gene Tignor, and Bill Eldon.

Jack White, projects chairman, reported a profit of over $175 on the community birthday calendar and announced that Harold Phillips and John Chaney were winners of individual prizes and that K. E. Morrison's team had the best sales record.

D. D. Saunders, minstrel chairman, reported that his group planned the black-face show for mid-December. He announced committee chairmen as follows: C. T. Carpenter, publicity; K. E. Morrison, advertising; Mr. Hedden, music; Delbert Dixon, lighting, sound and properties; Pete McDaniel, make-up; N. H. Reed, costumes; Harold Phillips, tickets; and J. T. McGinnis, treasurer.

Wilson Griffin announced that the second quarterly board meeting would be held at Elizabeth City on November 15 and 16 and urged members to plan to attend.

MORE ABOUT Election Sidelights

(Continued From Page One) early in the evening, but slight changes kept occurring until all the ballots for all races were finally sorted. Some presidential ballots kept showing up in the wrong boxes. Election officials took a liberal view on votes marked out-of-the-ordinary. Where the intent of the voter was clear, the vote was counted. Only a few were thrown out.

Total number of persons who actually went to the polling places Tuesday was slightly less than 3,000, with 45 absentee votes, many of them from men in service, swelling the total to 3,004. It meant that about 65 percent of the registered voters cast their ballots.

The vote count here at noon was: East Kings Mountain 621, West Kings Mountain 816. It meant that the pace of voting was almost constant at West Kings Mountain, while the pace of voting increased in the afternoon at the City Hall box.

MORE ABOUT World Community

Rev. Mr. Kurtz will discuss the work of the National Council of Churches, especially in the field of religious education. He is an experienced pastor and executive in the religious field. On two occasions he has served as acting secretary of the Kansas City City Council of Churches.

World Community Day began in 1943. All of the subsequent observances have considered the subject of world peace in one of its several phases. General purposes of the observance are: 1) to define Christian responsibility in international relations; 2) to interpret world community in terms of today's situation; 3) to help churchwomen understand the United Nations and to support it as an organization through which mankind can work together toward a just and lasting world peace.

MORE ABOUT GOP Landslide

(Continued From Page One) won and "leading in" contests indicated a Republican House. In the latter, North Carolina departed from tradition, the tenth district apparently electing Charles R. Jonas of Lincoln over the Democratic incumbent, Hamilton Jones. The race was also close in the ninth district, where Democrat Hugh Alexander retained a not-too-heavy lead.

Republican governors also had a fine day at the polls, taking a majority of the contests.

The electoral vote defeat, this time administered to the Democrats, was worse than it had been since 1936, when Franklin D. Roosevelt carried 46 of the 48 states, leaving only Maine and Vermont to the Republican candidate Alf Landon.
