National Book Week To Begin

The thirty-fourth annual observance of National Book Week begins Sunday, Mrs. Charles Dilling, librarian at Jacob S. Mauney Memorial library, noted this week, as she reported addition of more than 200 books to the library during recent months.

She also reported heavy circulation at the library with monthly total now averaging about 1,400 books per month. On one recent day a total of 141 books were borrowed by library patrons.

Slogan of the 1952 book week observance is "Reading Is Fun," which Mrs. Dilling points out is a reaffirmation of what children has discovered for themselves throughout the years.

The Jacob S. Mauney library devotes considerable attention to its youthful patrons, and a large number of its purchases are in the field of children's literature.

A special invitation to visit the library during book week, which continues through November 22, was extended by Mrs. Dilling. Special displays in commemoration of the observance are being prepared.

MORE ABOUT Garden Club

visited all present to attend a flower arrangement clinic to be held on November 19 by Mrs. Harold Wilson.

Reports from the other fifty odd clubs of district three included many other kinds of gardening activities from beautification of public places, yards and lawns, and even a cemetery being improved by the Cool Springs-Statesville club.

Mrs. Roy Homewood, president of the State Garden Club spoke at the luncheon. She told about National Garden Club activities and her recent trip through New Hampshire to the National Garden Club meeting. She pointed out the importance of cleanliness along our streets and roads and told of enforcement of a law in New Hampshire which prohibits even small pieces of paper being thrown from cars. This law was started by garden club women. She urged North Carolina women to become conscious of this need and begin working for similar laws to promote cleanliness along our highways. Mrs. Homewood also told about the National Garden Club meeting to be held in California in the spring, and she urged members to attend the regional board meeting in Pinehurst, including several Eastern states, in April.

Mrs. Paul Neisler, Sr. introduced Mrs. Homewood.

The Woman's Club was especially lovely with floral decorations in the Autumn mood. A wooden churn filled with dried materials in the entrance hall was arranged by Mrs. Carl Mayes. In the lounge Mrs. Mack Gantt had used a variety of dried materials in sea shells, drift wood and an old iron pot.

In the dining room pines and wrought iron floor baskets filled with pyracantha afforded a background for the speakers table. On the speakers table was a long low arrangement of dark red chrysanthemums. Small wicker baskets were used on the tables and had been done in various arrangements using fruits, flowers and dried materials by individual members of the local clubs. Mrs. Amos Dean was in charge of decorations.

Attractive lapel pins - metallic paper birds, made by the Bessemer City club were presented to the guests when they registered. Hastings Seed Company of Charlotte gave a packet of perennial seeds to each one present for the luncheon. Other favors were given by Sunrise Dairy, Ideal Machine Shop of Bessemer City and Bridges Hardware.

Beautiful table cloths from Neisler Mills were presented to Mrs. Homewood and Mrs. Gray.

Mrs. Aubrey Mauney was in charge of the door prizes which included a camellia plant and an azaelea plant from McQueen's Nursery in Whitesville, N. C. Ware's Roller Mill donated two sacks of flour and two sacks of meal. A pair of garden gloves was given by Mrs. W. L. Pressly Mauney Hosiery Mill donated a box of hose. An electric mixer was given by Bridges Hardware. Neisler Mills gave two bedspreads. Grayson's Jewelry Store gave a picture frame.
