Veterans Facing New Conditions

Veterans applying for GI loans today are confronted with different conditions and requirements from those which prevailed only a few weeks ago.

In response to many inquiries, VA explained the two main changes affecting veterans are:

1. The maximum allowable interest rate on GI loans guaranteed by VA has been raised to 4 1/2 percent from 4 percent effective May 5, 1953.

2. Credit restrictions on GI home loans have been removed, making it permissible for veterans to obtain such loans with no down payment and with a repayment term up to 30 years at the discretion of the lenders.

In addition, veterans who now plan to seek GI loans from private lenders for homes, farms or businesses should apply to VA regional offices in advance for certificates of eligibility.

VA emphasized that the new 4 1/2 percent interest rate will apply only to loans closed on or after May 5, 1953. The new ruling does not affect the rights of any veteran who has a firm commitment from a lender to make a loan at a lower rate. All loans closed prior to May 5, 1953 will be continued at the 4 percent rate under which they were negotiated.

VA explained that even though the law now permits GI loans with no down payment, veterans seeking loans are apt to find that many lenders will require down payments in varying amounts or percentages. Prior to the action removing controls on April 23, 1953, veterans were required to pay at least 5 percent down in most cases and the maximum loan usually was restricted to 20 or 25 years.

VA said if veterans apply in advance for certificates of eligibility for GI loans, it will reduce delays in processing the loan applications later, when the veteran is anxiously awaiting completion of the deal or is pressed for time to close the loan. Certificates of eligibility are the means by which VA certifies as to the eligibility of veterans for GI loans.

QUESTION — I understand that under the Korean GI Bill night law courses are counted as part-time training, and may not be measured as more than three-quarters time. Are there any exceptions?

ANSWER — Yes. Night law courses approved as full-time courses under standards set by the American Bar Association may be considered as full-time training for purposes of the Korean GI Bill.

High Toll Of Summer Accidental Deaths In Un-Supervised Waters

At least 3,580 persons will die this summer as the result of accidental drowning.

But it's a pretty good bet that you will not be one of these victims if you confine your water recreation to supervised beaches and boating areas.

The American Mutual Liability Insurance Company's Institute for Safer Living predicts the above water fatality toll, and estimates that more than 90 percent of these drownings will occur in unsupervised waters. An increasing number of swimming and boating areas having the protection of life guards and water patrols are being made available each year. These areas should be used wherever possible, says the Institute.

However, if you do use unprotected waters, whether lake, stream or ocean beach, the following water safety rules are especially important.

1. Investigate unfamiliar waters before swimming in them. If possible, talk with someone who is familiar with your contemplated swimming area. Obey any warning signs posted in the area.

2. Investigate unfamiliar water before diving into it. For safe diving, water should be at least 8 feet in depth.

3. Be sure that you know the limits of your swimming ability and do not exceed them. Remember you have to swim back.

4. Never swim alone in unprotected waters. The buddy system is double insurance against drowning, but don't endanger your buddy by being foolhardy.

5. Never race another swimmer toward open water. Swim parallel with, or toward the shore.

6. Don't go overboard to rescue another person unless you are an expert swimmer and know water rescue techniques. Use a boat, raft, life preserver, rope or pole for rescue work if at all possible.

7. Never take chances when boating. Be sure that you know how to handle your craft safely. Don't overlook wind, tide and current.

Remember, it's your life that is in your hands when you swim in unprotected waters.

In developing a new strain of Acacia cotton, California agricultural researchers found that it can be ginned about 38 per cent faster than Acacia 4-12, the strain it might in time supersede.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Citizens of K. M.:

Last week we read one woman's opinion on the theatres in K. M. Here is another opinion.

According to the population of Kings Mountain, it is fortunate that we have three theatres in town. The majority of the towns of this size have only one. I find if I don't care about one picture I have a choice of another. Speaking about the price of admission, have you heard that at the "Dixie", two thin dimes will get an adult in to see a first class movie? Why grumble at admission prices at one theatre, when you can walk one block either way and see a movie that is cheaper. As for driving out of town, the gas you spend plus admission, at the best theatres in Gastonia or Shelby, will cost you fifty cents or more.

My congratulations go to the new theatre owners. May they have success in their business. At least they made it possible, if I can't afford fifty cents, to go down the street for only twenty cents. It is also saving me from buying an air-conditioner for my home, because it's cool at the "Dixie".

Oh yes, if the popcorn was measured, I believe the lady of last week's letter, would find that the ten cents boxes holds as much as the ten cents bags.

Again congratulations to the new theatre owners. They have my cooperation.

A Citizen of Route 2 Kings Mountain, N. C.
