Study Club Met Tuesday With Mrs. L. A. Hoke

Mr. L. E. Abbott, an executive of the First National Bank was guest speaker Tuesday night at the meeting of the Study Club with Mrs. L. A. Hoke.

Mr. Abbott based his remarks on thrift, stating that thrift is the foundation of success in business, success in society and the expression of character, that moral character and thrift are closely related, also that saving gives us strength and a feeling of security. Security does not grow on trees and is not found in boxes. Mr. Abbott closed his remarks with several very appropriate poems.

Mrs. P. G. Ratterree, program leader, presented Mr. Abbott and Mrs. Aubrey Mauney. Mrs. Mauney had a collection of foreign money and coins which she exhibited and told about their experiences in foreign exchanges while abroad last summer.

During the business meeting, the following were appointed to serve on the book committee for the coming year: Mrs. J. H. Patterson, Mrs. M. H. Biser and Mrs. H. C. Mayes. The telephone committee for the next three months are: Mrs. Hunter Nelsler, Mrs. H. C. Mayes and Mrs. J. R. Davis. The constitution and by-laws were read.

Mrs. Hoke used a color note of yellow in her decorations in the living room, marigolds in vary-

Beautiful Coca Cola Party Wednesday At Weir Home

The home of Mrs. W. T. Weir was the scene of a delightful occasion Wednesday morning when Mrs. Weir, Mrs. Ellerbe, Mrs. Daracott and Mrs. Carl Davidson received at a perfectly planned Coca Cola party.

Guests were greeted on the porch by Mrs. Carl Davidson and inside the door by Mrs. Ellerbe and Mrs. Weir. The mantel was centered with an immense arrangement of pink gladioli, white gypsophilla, and pom poms. Similar arrangements graced the occasional tables.

Mrs. J. G. Daracott directed callers to the dining room where the appointed table was overlaid with a handsome hand made lace cloth. Two silver candelabras with a silver epergure in the center of each held a stately arrangement of lavender gladioli with yellow gypsophilla. Yellow tapers burned in the holders. A beautiful silver tray in the center was filled with assorted sandwiches. Silver trays of sandwiches and chicken salad sandwiches were on one end of the table.

Completing the table appointments was a tray of green and yellow candied lemon slices. The buffet was centered with a display of matching flowers and a tall yellow taper in the hurricane lamp. Plates and napkins were given out by Mrs. Paul Fry of Albemarle and Mrs. Aubrey Mauney.

Mixed summer flowers were used throughout the home and on the porches where tables were placed for refreshments. Each was centered with a small vase of mixed flowers.

Receiving in the dining room were Mrs. Marriott Phifer and Mrs. Howard Jackson, Mrs. Aubrey Clay was at the door leading into the hall where Mrs. Jimmie Mercer and Miss Nancy Nickels served Coca Colas.

Mrs. S. S. Weir and Mrs. Howard Davidson received in the den. Mrs. Jay Patterson was at the door leading to the porch where Mrs. E. T. Platt and Mrs. Herman Campbell presided.

In the yard were colorful umbrellas and tables. Receiving there were Mrs. Luther Cansler, Mrs. B. N. Barnes and Mrs. M. H. Biser.

Goodbyes were said on the side
