Mrs. And Mrs. J. A. Clay Give Wedding Breakfast

Climaxing the many social courtesies extended Mrs. Mary Lou Davidson, whose marriage to Jesse R. Nivens was a social event of high noon Saturday was the wedding breakfast held in the Fellowship Hall of the Presbyterian church, immediately following the ceremony.

The prettily planned breakfast was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Clay of Waco and included members of the wedding party, out-of-town guests, relatives and several close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Weir welcomed the guests as they started down into the Fellowship Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jackson directed into the dining room, receiving just inside the door were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Clay, who directed to the receiving line composed of Mrs. W. G. Hord, mother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Nivens, the honorees, Mrs. Kent Herman, daughter of Mr. Nivens and matron of honor, and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Randall, of Hendersonville.

The bridal table, placed in the center of the dining room, was overlaid with a handsome lace cloth. In the center were two silver candelabras and epernettes, white gladioli were used in the epernettes with tall white burning cathedral tapers, which cast a soft glow over the silver platters of cream chicken in pastry shells, tomato aspic, green and white ribbon sandwiches and the silver service on one end of the table from which Mrs. P. D. Patrick poured coffee. Mrs. Zell Hord of Charlotte and Mrs. Harry Teele of Spartanburg served. Those assisting were Mrs. W. D. Kiser, Mrs. Hayes Bennett, Mrs. Yuell Hawkins of Gastonia, Mrs. Bayne Randall, Mrs. Sloan Hord, Mrs. Paul McGinnis, Miss Beth Putman, Miss Netty Roberts and Miss Nancy Nickels.

On one side of the room was a long table overlaid with linen cloth, centering this was the huge tiered wedding cake, flanked on either side with silver candelabras and epernettes corresponding to the ones on the bridal table. Mrs. W. J. Fulkerson cut the cake which was served to the guests.

Mrs. Elisha McBrayer of Shelby and Mrs. A. T. Randall presided at the register and goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Benson.

The entire room was decorated in green and white. Several outstanding arrangements utilizing foliage and fruit in silver containers were placed at vantage points about the large room, the white glads and lace ferns all created a beautiful setting for the social affair.

Later, amid a shower of rice, the bridal couple left for a trip to Canada.

Town And Country Club Give A Pretty Garden Fair

One of the most outstanding attractions to be held in Kings Mountain in sometime was the Garden Fair given by the Town and Country Club Thursday afternoon.

The Garden Fair was held in the spacious home and lawn of Mrs. E. W. Griffin from 3 o'clock until 6 o'clock.

Callers were welcomed on the front terrace by Mrs. J. H. Arthur. Upon entering the home, Mrs. Griffin greeted the guests at the front door and asked they observe the numerous flower arrangements. The home was converted into a setting of distinctive beauty featuring graceful arrangements of fall flowers placed at points of decoration. The dining table was especially lovely overlaid with a handsome cutwork linen cloth centered with a mass bouquet of flowers in pastel shades.

Mrs. Jacob Mauney, greeted at the dining room door and directed the callers to the side terrace, where Mrs. O. W. Myers and Mrs. F. E. Finger directed to the refreshment table placed under spreading trees.

The table was overlaid with a red imported cloth, at one end was a raffia cornucopia with a graceful arrangement of fruits and vegetables. Trays of ornamented cookies, chicken salad sandwiches, and potato chips created a lovely picture.

Those assisting here were Mrs. Don Blanton, Mrs. Bruce Thorburn, Mrs. Baxter Payseur, Mrs. Margaret Miller and Miss Helen Hay.

From a beautifully decorated table Mrs. C. F. Thomason served lime punch. Chairs were placed about the lawn where guests could sit and enjoy the refreshments and the beauty of the lawn. From a long table at the back

Mrs. Mary Lou Davidson Bride Of Jesse Franklin Niven In Church Rites

The First Presbyterian church was the setting Saturday, October 3, at 12 o'clock noon for the wedding of Mrs. Mary Lou Davidson to Jesse Franklin Niven of Albemarle. Rev. P. D. Patrick, pastor of the bride, officiated. A large arrangement of white gladioli occupied the center of the altar and was flanked by two candelabra holding white tapers. Two large candelabra, each holding tapers were used at the side of the altar, with large Oregon fern medallions grouped behind them for background greenery.

Nuptial Music
A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Aubrey Clay, sister of the bride, as organist, and Mrs. Harry Teele of Spartanburg, S. C., vocalist. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, James Aubrey Clay. She wore a lovely Lilli Ann suit in taupe tones with a close fitting profile hat in three lovely shades of velvet, bluish pink, rose d'amour, and purple. Her blouse and gloves were bluish pink with other accessories in black. Her bridal bouquet, carried on a white prayer book, was a white purple throated orchid showered with tuberoses.

Mrs. Kenneth Herman, of West of the lawn, Mrs. W. E. Blakely and Mrs. J. G. Darracott sold fancy canned preserves, jellies, and fruit, also cakes, cookies, candies and fresh fruit.

Mrs. W. T. Weir, Mrs. H. L. Campbell and Mrs. W. M. Moorhead sold plants and shrubs.

Concluding the memorable event, goodbyes were said to Mrs. N. F. McGill.

Palm Beach, Florida, and only daughter of the bridegroom, attended the bride as matron-of-honor, and only attendant. Her dress was of iridescent purple antique taffeta with which she wore black accessories. Her bouquet was of orange delight roses. Smith Niven, of Morven and brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Kenneth Herman, son-in-law of the bridegroom, and Horace B. Hord of Shelby, nephew of the bride.

Mrs. William Gordon Hord, mother of the bride, wore a dress of cloud blue with a corsage of white rose buds and accessories in black.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Clay entertained at an informal breakfast in the Fellowship Hall of the church.
