Saturday Cake Cutting Honored Bridal Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mitchem entertained at a beautiful green and white cake-cutting Saturday evening following the rehearsal for the Keeney-Huffstetler wedding...

Guests were greeted at the front entrance of Kings Mountain Woman's club by Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. White and presented to the receiving line composed of the couple, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Keeney, Sr., of Myerstown, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Dan S. Huffstetler, members of the wedding party, the host couple, and out-of-town guests.

A three-tiered white and green wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom figurines was placed at the side of the refreshment table, which was overlaid with a white cutwork lace cloth.

An all-white arrangement of Garzer chrysanthemums flanked by two silver candelabrum holding white lighted tapers decorated the center of the table, and bowls of chrysanthemums, pompons, and snapdragons formed a centerpiece on the mantel of the club lounge.

After the couple had cut the first piece of wedding cake, Mrs. Joe R. Hendrick cut and served the cake. Mrs. A. A. Lackey, Jr., and Miss Mary Anne Beam presided at the punch bowl.

Mint candies, decorated party sandwiches, and salted nuts in silver compotes were set on the punch bowl table. Bridesmaid attendants in the wedding assisted in serving refreshments.

Members of the two families, the bridal couple, members of the wedding party, close relatives and friends, and out-of-town guests made up the party list.

Mrs. Oscar Winfred Myers Entertained At Formal Afternoon Tea Here Friday

Mrs. Oscar Winfred Myers entertained at a formal afternoon reception Friday paying compliment to her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Winfred Earle Myers, of Silver Springs, Maryland, who, before her marriage last summer, was Miss Myra Sue Dickson, of Gastonia.

Guests were greeted at the front entrance of the lovely Myers' home on North Piedmont avenue by Mrs. Paul M. Neisler, Sr., and were met at the arch-living room door by Mrs. H. Carl Mayes, who presented callers to the receiving line.

Mrs. Myers, the hostess, received her guests in a gray formal dress of winter crepe with bodice of imported shadow lace trimmed with jewel sequins and introduced them to Mrs. Winfred Earle Myers, who wore a scoop-neckline champagne party dress with a purple-throated orchid pinned to her shoulder.

The honoree introduced guests to her mother, Mrs. Ralph A. Dickson, of Gastonia, who was dressed in a neptune blue dress with scooped-out neckline accented with Venise-type lace embroidered in seed pearls and rhinestones. Mrs. Dickson, in turn, presented guests to Mrs. Jesse Franklin Niven, of Albemarle, October bride, who wore a yellow-tinted gown with matching cape, jacket and gloves.

Bowls of colorful red and white carnations, Garza chrysanthemums and white gladioli with Galax leaves decorated tables in the living room, and a fan arrangement of white gladioli formed a centerpiece on the piano.

Red and white carnations around Huckleberry foliage in a milk-glass container were used as background decoration for the receiving line which was formed near the living room entrance.

Mrs. Jack H. White met guests at the dining room door and directed them to the refreshment table.

A single arrangement of white snapdragons, white carnations, and Garza chrysanthemums encircled at the middle-base by yellow bud-roses and bells-of-Ireland in a low-bowl container centered the refreshment table, which was overlaid with a white linen cloth of cutwork embroidery. Yellow matching candles in three-branched candelabra flanked each side of the flower bowl at one end and at the center of the table.

A silver tea service graced the extreme end of the table where Mrs. C. F. Thomason poured tea. Silver trays holding puffed shells of chicken salad, cheese blankets, rum balls, petite-fleurs, candy compotes, and individual iced cup cakes decorated in red had been placed on the refreshment table, and cookies, nuts and other candies were set at separate points on the cloth and on separate buffets in the dining hall.

Two five-branched candelabra holding white and yellow lighted tapers were used on either end of the buffet centered by a massive arrangement of assorted varicolored chrysanthemums and carnations sprayed with ivy and fern.

Mrs. C. T. Carpenter, Jr., Mrs. John Oates Plonk, Jr., Mrs. William Herndon, Mrs. William Leigh of Gastonia, and Miss Elizabeth Anthony assisted in serving refreshments.

Mrs. Claude Hambright met guests at the back hall stairway, which led to the den, and presented them to Mrs. John C. Smathers who directed callers from the hallway to the den, where Mrs. W. K. Mauney, Sr., Mrs. M. A. Ware, Sr., and Mrs. P. D. Patrick received and presided at the guest register placed on a side table.

Mrs. E. W. Griffin, Sr. said good-byes.

A single arrangement of nandina berries and bronze chrysanthemums in a copper container had been placed on tables in the den, and two brown-green glass cornucopias of fruits and dried arrangements decorated the den mantel-board.

Mrs. N. F. McGill furnished musical selections on the piano during the afternoon.
