

Showing Planned For Model Home

Elmer Lumber Company will sponsor a model-home showing on the weekend of December 11, it was announced this week by Drace M. Peeler, Elmer Lumber secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Peeler said his firm will show the just-completed five-room residence built by Crescent Hill Development Company at 706 Crescent Hill Circle.

The residence will be completely furnished, Mr. Peeler added, with four Kings Mountain furniture retailers to collaborate in outfitting the new home. Participating in the showing will be Cooper's, Inc., Baird Furniture, Sterch's, and McGinnis Furniture Company, which will outfit the two bedrooms, living room, and den. Elmer Lumber Company will furnish the kitchen with the completely new Youngstown kitchen, featuring the new "diana-style" sink.

Among other new features in the house are ranch-type trim and "thrifty-tee" window sashes.

The home was constructed by Crescent Hill Development Company on a lot fronting 80 feet on Crescent Hill Circle. The lot is 132 feet deep on the longest side and its back line is 113 feet. The five-room dwelling has outside dimensions of 50 feet, 10 inches by 24 feet, 10 inches, the width including a nine-foot porch. It contains more than 1,000 square feet of interior floor space.

Drunkenness Major Sin Here For November

Kings Mountain police officers made a total of 65 arrests during the month of November, and, as is usual, public drunkenness claimed the major share of attention, as 25 persons made the hoosegow for imbibing too much cheering spirits.

Second favorite charge during November was speeding, nine motorists being arrested for having too heavy feet, while four were taken in tow for operating an auto without a driver's license.

Three arrests were made on each of the following counts: abandonment and non-support; reckless driving, and on capias.

Two arrests each were for writing worthless checks, for drunken driving, driving with improper brakes, passing improperly, and for theft of automobiles.

The following charges were responsible for one arrest each:

Illegal possession of whiskey, fugitive warrant, disposing of mortgaged property, assault with intent to kill, damage to property, assault with deadly weapon, assault on female, and military man absent without leave.

BurMil Expands Into Worsteds

GREENSBORO — Burlington Mills has announced its expansion into the worsted and worsted blend field with the establishment of new men's wear sales facilities in New York City to market fabrics produced with Burlington's manufacturing and styling facilities.

The announcement was made simultaneously by J. C. Cowan, Jr., of Greensboro president of Burlington Mills, and Joseph A. Golden, vice president, who directs men's wear sales activities for the Company in New York City.

The Burlington men's wear sales division will now consist of a rayon department and a new worsted department.

George E. Cohen has resigned from American Woolen Company to join Burlington as sales manager of the worsted department with Bernard Cooper of the Burlington organization heading the styling unit.

Thomas Evans continues as sales manager of the rayon department with Benjamin Torrens in charge of styling. The announcement said that expansion into the worsted and worsted blend field is being made in recognition of the importance of such type fabrics in the men's wear field and with the full conviction that Burlington's manufacturing facilities can make a substantial contribution in servicing this trade. The rayon department will handle 100 per cent man-made fabrics while the worsted department will merchandise the all worsted and/or worsted-blends with new fibers. Each
