GARDEN TIME

Are you getting tired of running the cultivator and wielding the hoe in your garden in a losing battle with weeds and grass? Why not use a mulch?

It is surprising how few gardens make use of mulches as an aid in the conservation of moisture and the control of weeds. A mulch may be any material such as hay, straw, manure, leaves, leafmold, peat, sawdust, pine straw, or paper, which is put down on the ground around plants for the purpose of conserving moisture during the hot, dry summer weather.

At the same time a mulch will keep down most of the weeds. It has been reported that one enterprising gardener collected all the cardboard boxes he could get at the store, flattened them out, and put them on the ground around his plants as a mulch. — and the results were excellent. I have used regular mulching paper in my own garden with good results. It even smothered out Bermuda and nut grass.

Many fruits and flowers, small fruits and shrubs are good subjects for mulching. Tomatoes, peppers, eggplants and cucumbers may be mulched with straw, leaves or paper. Azaleas, camelias, and blueberries, which desire an acid soil may be mulched with sawdust, leafmold or peat. Red raspberries, dewberries, and grapes may be mulched with straw manure.

In all cases the mulch should be applied after the soil has been well moistened by rain or irrigation. If fertilizer is necessary it also should be applied before the mulch is laid down.

—You will find that in small gardens a mulch will help solve many of your cultural problems.

Keeter spent Sunday at Boone and visited other places of interest in the mountains.

Craftspun, City Softball Champs Enter Shelby District Tournament

Craftspun Yarns, Inc., men's softball team, 1954 city champions, have entered the Western North Carolina Softball tournament to be held in Shelby July 28 through August 4th.

Craftspun, managed by Oiland Pearson, had an 84 record for the season in the fast local league to edge out BurMill and Mar-grace who finished tied with 75 records for the runner-up spot.

Several players from the other three teams have been added to the Craftspun roster for the state playoffs.

There are 17 other teams in the tournament, being sponsored by the Shelby Boys Club.

Kings Mountain Jaycees sponsored the tournament last year. Nine teams are entered from Gastonia this year.

The Kings Mountain league may enter another team in the tournament, picked from the remaining three teams in the men's league.
