MRS. CLARENCE EUGENE DIXON

Sellers-Dixon Vows Exchanged Sunday In Formal Rites At Bethlehem Church

Miss Shirley Gail Sellers and Clarence Eugene Dixon, both of Kings Mountain, exchanged marriage vows Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in a candlelight ceremony of beauty and reverence in Bethlehem Baptist church.

Rev. R. E. Robbins, pastor of the church, officiated, using the double-ring service. Kentia palms, fern, lighted tapers, and altar baskets of white giant chrysanthemums provided background decoration.

Mrs. James Logan, of Kings Mountain, and James Chasteen, of Bessemer City, presented the wedding music.

Organ selections included "Liebestraum" by Liszt; Excerpt from the "Pathetique" Symphony by Tschalkowsky; "Berceuse" from "Jocelyn" by Godard; "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice" from "Samson and Delilah" by Saint-Saens; "O Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star" from "Tannhauser" by Wagner, and "I Love You Truly" by Bond. Mrs. Logan played Debussy's "Clair de lune" as vows were said.

Mr. Chasteen sang "For You Alone" by Geel; "O Promise Me" by Dekoven, and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte as a benediction. Traditional wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of white Chantilly lace made with a lace Victorian style redingote over taffeta bodice with four - tiered skirt of net ending in a chapel train. The fitted redingote was scalloped and embroidered with seed pearls, and appliqued lace medallions accented the low waist line. Full Victorian sleeves tapered to fit closely beginning at the elbows and ending in caps over the hands. Her double-tiered fingertip veil of French illusion was draped from a lace cloche outlined in lace medallions and seed pearls, and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid showered with satin streamers tied in love knots.

Mrs. Bill Bell of Kings Mountain was the bride's matron of honor, and Miss Geraldine Barnett, of Charlotte, was maid of honor. They wore gowns of gold velvet and net over taffeta with matching velvet cloches. Each carried a nosegay of purple asters tied with purple satin ribbon.
