STRETCHING YOUR DOLLARS by Philip J. Goldberg Chairman, Institute for Financial Planning Inc.

Recently a friend of mine had his income tax return challenged. He had neglected to keep receipts of his contributions to charity. Therefore, his claimed deduction was not allowed and, moreover, he lost the best part of a working day appearing before the review board.

Volunteer hospital workers may deduct transportation expenses to and from work, including gas and oil, the cost of any required uniform plus laundering expenses a dime the cost of meals and lodging incurred when volunteering services.

Paintings, bonds, securities, objects of art which are donated to a religious or charitable institution are also deducted at the fair market value.

If you have any questions on how you can STRETCH YOUR DOLLARS more effectively, send them to me at the Institute for Financial Planning, Inc., P. O. Box 3176, Grand Central Station, New York, N. Y. 10017.
