CALLING ALL HOME MAKERS

By GENE TIMMS "THOSE 'LITTLE THINGS' TO MAKE YOU HAPPY"

The success of a furniture store depends upon big things such as having a large selection of attractively displayed furniture; competitive prices; courteous and well informed sales people; good service and prompt and satisfactory handling of complaints, etc.

However, as important as the above factors may be, sometimes it is the "little things" which make customers happy—the things which create what is known as "customer loyalty" — a priceless ingredient to the success of any business.

Here are a few of the "little things" which we know our customers like: Making sure that bedroom and dining room suites are cleaned and polished before delivery; that all of the drawers open and close easily; that there are no scratches, knicks or other blemishes.

That all upholstered pieces are carefully inspected and vacuum cleaned before delivery.

That all furniture is carefully loaded on the trucks and adequately covered for protection.

Our customers like the fact that we try to be helpful instead of "high pressure"; that they do not exaggerate or misrepresent when selling furniture.

We try to keep our showrooms attractive by keeping everything immaculately clean. These "little things" and many more, keep our customers happy. We invite you to join our happy customer "family".
