The Veterans Corner EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are authoritative answers by the Veterans Administration to some of the many current questions from former servicemen and their families. Further information on veterans benefits may be obtained at any VA office.

Q-I served in World War II. Are my wife and children eligible for any benefits should I die before the children finish school?

A-Much depends upon the financial condition of the family after your death since your question would indicate you have no service-connected disabilities. You should instruct your wife to get in touch with the Veterans Administration at the time of your death. In that way, she may learn of any other benefits due her in addition to the $250 burial allowance.

Q-I was discharged from service for a disability during World War II after a comparatively short term of service. Because of this short service am I
